DEATH OF SCHLEY OCCURS SUDDENLY

Notable Figure in Naval History of the Nation Expires in Street.

ENVIABLE CAREER IN NAVY

Notable Figure in Naval History of Country Expires Suddenly in New York—Fell Helpless in the Street

New York, Oct. 2.—Unrecognized by a single person in the curious throng that rushed to his aid, Rear Admiral Winfield Scott Schley, U. S. N., retired, fell dead in front of the Berkeley Lyceum on West 44th street this afternoon. The death of this notable figure in the naval history of the Nation was for the moment that of an unknown man in a strange crowd.

The admiral's sudden death is attributed to cerebral hemorrhage, which attacked him shortly after he, with Mrs. Schley, reached New York this morning for a visit to Mount Kisco, and had called at the New York Yacht Club for his mail.

As the admiral was walking through West 44th street, a passer-by who saw him stagger, grasped his arm and tried to support him. Despite the stranger's service, however, the admiral fell helpless to the street and a physician, who pressed his way through the crowd that quickly gathered, pronounced him dead. There was a gash over his right eye, where his forehead had struck the sidewalk.

A slight fracture of the frontal bone had ensued but surgeons who examined the body expressed disbelief that this injury in any way contributed to death. His identity was quickly established by letters and papers found in his pocket and from an inscription on his gold watch which had been presented to the admiral by his native State of Maryland "for his heroism and memorable service in rescuing Lieut. A. W. Greeley, U. S. A., and six comrades from death at Cape Sabine in the Arctic regions on June 22, 1884."

The spot where Admiral Schley died is in the very center of New York's club district, and members of organizations whose houses are thickly clustered there soon penetrated the throng and confirmed the identification of the famous commander who figured so prominently in the naval engagement of 1898 at Santiago.

The body was taken to the nearest police station and reverently covered while the family and friends of the dead officer were notified. The body later was removed to the Hotel Algonquin, where Admiral Schley made his home while in this city. Blue jackets from the Brooklyn navy yard who had been summoned, furnished an escort, their commander being Recruiting Officer C. M. DeValen, who was with Admiral Schley on the cruiser Brooklyn at the battle of Santiago.

One of the admiral's sons, Dr. Winfield Scott Schley, Jr., reached the scene before the body was removed. A message conveying the sad news to the admiral's other son, Capt. T. F. Schley, at Fort Logan, Denver, Colo., was dispatched.

At a late hour tonight no definite announcement of the funeral arrangements had been made.

His Naval Career.

Washington, Oct. 2.—Admiral Schley's death removed one of the best known officers in the history of the American navy. His services in important posts, his half century of active naval career and his personality all contributed to an acquaintanceship that stretched around the world. On the streets of Washington and New York in particular he was a familiar figure.

The admiral would have been 72 years old within a week. When the first shock of the news of Admiral Schley's death had passed there was a general expression of regret, sympathy and condolence from the large number of officials and persons of high standing, who had enjoyed the acquaintance and friendship of the gallant sailor.

Secretary Meyer said: "In the death of Admiral Schley the Navy loses a most distinguished officer, one who has served the navy in the Civil War and since that time has filled many prominent positions in the naval service."

Admiral Dewey: "Admiral Schley was a warm hearted, gallant and chivalrous gentleman. The country has lost a loyal servant. I have lost a dear friend of more than 50 years' standing."

If the funeral takes place here the admiral will be buried in the Arlington National Cemetery. His grave will be in front of the historic Lee mansion, in close proximity to the lot assigned to Admiral Dewey and the members of his Asiatic fleet and overlooks the Potomac river and the city of Washington.

Arrangements for Admiral Schley's funeral were completed tonight. It was announced that the Admiral's body will be tomorrow taken to Washington on the 1:06 P. M. train over the Pennsylvania Railroad, and that services will be held at his late home in the National capital. The burial will be in Arlington cemetery.

DOCTOR MURDERED WIFE NO. 2

Coroner's Jury Held Murderer Without Bail—Accused Cooly Confessed to Deed—Stabbed Her With Pocket Knife

Dixon, Ill., Oct. 2.—A coroner's jury at Polo, Ill., late today ordered Dr. Harry Elgin Webster held in the Ogle county jail, at Oregon, Ill., without bail on a charge of murdering his second wife, Bessie Kent Webster. Webster did not appear at the inquest in Polo. Members of the coroner's jury were taken in automobiles to the jail at Oregon where Webster acknowledged his confession made in Chicago. Following his trip to Oregon, the jury returned to Polo, where the inquest was concluded.

Matthias Meyers was the first witness and he told of finding the body Friday when he and his wife were gathering hickory nuts.

Dr. Thomas, a brother-in-law of the murdered woman, and also her dentist, identified the body as that of Mrs. Webster and explained the gold crown work which he had placed on her month a few weeks ago. Dr. Thomas was bitter toward the authorities for believing Webster's confession. He stated the idea of the doctor's having killed the woman upon a sudden impulse was absurd.

Sheriff Delaney told of the history of the case and confession and exhibited to the jurors a pocket knife which he said Dr. Webster had declared was the weapon with which the woman had been killed.

Dr. Griffith, who assisted at the autopsy, described the wound and stated that it had evidently been inflicted by a person who had a knowledge of surgery.

In the verdict, the jury fixed the place in which the crime was committed as Ogle county. State's Attorney Emerson is rushing the work of preparation for the trial and hopes to have an indictment returned at once by the regular grand jury which is now in session.

Chicago, Oct. 2.—Dr. Harry Elgin Webster, a Rush medical college graduate student, and interne at the Policlinic Hospital, in a remarkable confession to the police on Sunday, admitted that he murdered one of his two young wives, Bessie Kent Webster, of Chicago, in the woods, ten miles from Dixon, Ill., Sept. 16th.

The police say the motive for the crime was Webster's desire to hide from his first wife, Zoe Varney Webster, of Cedar Rapids, Ia., the fact that he was a bigamist. He had married the two women within one week last January.

The accidental discovery of Bessie Kent's body Friday, almost two weeks after she had been killed, was followed by identification Saturday, and the arrest Sunday morning of Webster.

MEXICAN ELECTION.

Vice Presidency in Doubt—The Progressive Party.

Mexico City, Oct. 2.—Within a week it may be possible to ascertain who was elected to the Vice Presidency of Mexico in yesterday's elections, but now it is predicted it may take the official count of the 20,000 votes of the electoral college three weeks hence to definitely determine the winner. Madero has been elected President without a doubt.

In Tehuantepec there was a clash between factions in local politics in which seven men were killed, according to meagre dispatches received here tonight. Reports from all over the Republic, however, tell of very few disorders, the one at Tehuantepec being the only one with fatalities.

Another clash that resulted in a few fatalities, but which had nothing to do with the elections, was that near the border between Puebla and Guerrero, when Federal troops encountered a small band of rebels.

At the headquarters of the progressive party claims of an undoubted victory for Jose Pino Suarez were made. The Catholics are equally confident of victory. Meanwhile partisans of Dr. Francisco Vasquez Gomez complacently state that both Catholics and progressives are counting Gomez districts for their own.

It appears reasonably certain the Federal district will send up a majority for the Madero-Suarez ticket. Gomez admits this. It is denied by the Catholics.

EARTH SHOCKS RECORDED

Seismograph at New Orleans Tells Story of Violent Quake

New Orleans, Oct. 2.—A violent earthquake, an unknown distance, probably southwest of New Orleans, is forecasted by what are regraded as unmistakable indications registered by the seismograph at Loyola University. The delicate needles of this instrument have recorded miscroseismograms without interruption since noon last Saturday, the amplitude steadily increasing until late today when it had reached 1 3-4 millimetres.

"These microseismograms," said Father Franckhauser, director of the Loyola observatory, "are similar in all particulars to those which were recorded for five days preceding the disastrous Turkestan quake. The probable location of the upheaval which promises to be violent as far as we can ascertain now, is southwest of New Orleans. In all probability this earthquake is of volcanic origin."

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 2.—The jury in the case of L. J. Norris, charged with the murder of J. B. Bissett, has been out since 5:30 o'clock and retired at 10:30 tonight, expecting to resume effort to get together in the morning. It is said there are two jurors for conviction and ten for acquittal.

SEARCH FOR DEAD IN AUSTIN RUINS

Prompt Relief Work in Flood-Swept District Aids Many of the Sufferers.

DEATH TOLL GROWS SMALLER

May Have to Burn Ruins to Save Living From Epidemic—Twenty-Four Known Dead—Presents Gruesome Scene.

Austin, Pa., Oct. 2.—Twenty-four known dead, 86 missing and believed to be carried beneath the debris is the official census tonight of Austin's loss of life in the flood of Saturday. It is conceded, however, that several, if not many visitors and strangers were in town that day and undoubtedly perished. Including them and allowing for inevitable errors in compilation, the total of dead probably will reach 150. Twenty-one of the 24 bodies recovered have been identified and of the missing hope is entertained that some may yet be accounted for.

The problem of Austin tonight is to recover her dead from the thousands of tons of debris choking the narrow valley. To do so before it becomes necessary to burn the ruins and save the living from an epidemic, an army of labor must reach the town within the next 36 hours, officials say.

Otherwise the torch may transform the wreckage into the pyre of most of those who have perished. The single line of wire between Austin and the outside world carried an urgent plea for workmen to the mayor of Buffalo, Pittsburg, Philadelphia. Samuel G. Dixon, State commissioner of health, supreme in command at Austin, wired each of the mayors:

"We are in need of laborers to assist in rescue work. Desire about 400 sent in a bunk train. Please advise as what you can do. Work consists of recovering dead bodies from ruins. Please telegraph what assistance you can render."

Encouraging responses are hoped for early tomorrow.

"Give us our dead," is Austin's cry, voiced by State Senator Baldwin, who lost father, mother, sister and other relatives. Only the body of his father, John E. Baldwin, had been recovered tonight. The others are locked in the ruins.

"I speak for the people of Austin," he said. "The State of Pennsylvania owes us the bodies of our loved ones. For 48 hours they have been in the ruins; how much longer will the commonwealth leave them there? The State should have a thousand men working here now."

The nine mile railroad line leading here from Keating's Summit was given over today to rescue and relief work. Locked cars pulled out of the summit for the scene of the disaster. When they reached here the workers detrained. The drones kept aboard were sent back. Every man on Austin's streets, except newspaper men, was conscripted for service, but despite the efforts of the authorities only 350 were working at sunset.

Smoldering flames in the debris burst forth anew in the wreckage this afternoon, but it is not believed that any bodies were burned.

Austin stands to a man against the suggestion that it may be necessary to put the torch to her ruins. Feeling runs high and should the health authorities be forced to this extremity there is no foretelling the result. Pennsylvania State constabulary holds the town in its grasp tonight, however, and the troopers will remain here until Commissioner Dixon gives the word to go.

The flood-swept valley offers no shelter for laborers expected here tomorrow unless they come in bunk cars they cannot be cared for. Eight homeless men slept last night on the floor of a house spared by the waters, two women and five children, all refugees, slept in the room above them, while the household of five huddled into two remaining rooms. This is but typical of conditions everywhere in the flood zone.

Food and clothing reached Austin in carload lots today and there was enough to eat for all. The distributing agents lacked shoes and under garments for the women and children, however. These were ordered by telegraph and should arrive tomorrow.

Across the street from the morgue, life insurance companies nailed their shingles to a tree near a small shack today, topping them with a sign "Inquire within." A file of weeping women took turns at recording their claims.

A call for aid came today from flood swept Costello, three miles below. Conditions there parallel the situation here, the distinction being that the town is much smaller and less damaged than Austin, while the death list at oCstello remains at two. It is believed that all others escaped.

The Relief Measures.

Austin, Pa., Oct. 2.—Shortly before 1 o'clock today State Commissioner Dixon issued an order that nobody but officials and employes of the State Health Department other State officials and newspaper correspondents should be allowed in the flood zone. This order was issued because news of the disaster had attracted thousands of persons to Austin from both North and South. Few of these sight-

FIGHTING DISSOLUTION PLANS

R. G. Richardson Jr., & Co. Wants Tobacco Trust Enjoined From Interfering With Its Business—Features.

New York, Oct. 2.—Charles R. Caruth, counsel for R. G. Richardson Jr., & Co., a subsidiary of the American Tobacco Co., has filed a petition with the United States Circuit Court asking that the American company be enjoined from interfering with the business of the Richardson company. This petition carries with it a complete denunciation of the plans of disintegration of the American Tobacco Co., as now proposed.

In his petition Mr. Caruth gives what is believed to be the authentic details of the tobacco company's dissolution plans. These details, summarized, show that the American Tobacco Co. is to be divided into three corporations, each to have almost unlimited capital, and resources; that control of these companies will remain with the majority of voting stockholders of the American Tobacco Co., so that if the Union Tobacco Co. is to remain in existence, purpose of paying off its bonds at maturity and that the American Tobacco Co. will control $170,000,000 of the assets. Mr. Caruth states that the dissolution plan has no effectual safeguards to prevent the companies created out of the elements now united from being really, so secretly controlled by the same interests as at present.

GINNER'S COTTON REPORT

Will Be Earliest on Record—Increase In Ginnings

Washington, Oct. 2.—Indications that the cotton crop of the present season would be one of the earliest on record were borne out today by the Census Bureau's ginning report which showed a total of 3,66366 running bales ginned prior to September 25th. This was 1,300,000 bales more than was ginned to that date a year ago, and 1,000 bales more than was ginned to that date during any previous year for which records have been kept by the Census Bureau.

The largest increases on ginnings during the period were reported from Texas, Georgia, South Carolina, Alabama and North Carolina.

For the 21 working days since the last ginning report on September 1st, an average of 137,703 bales were ginned. This was 44,000 bales more a day than 1910, 34,000 more than 1909 and 1908, 81,000 more than in 1907 and 55,000 more than in 1906.

The report, giving amounts in running bales, counting round as half bales, with comparative statistics to the corresponding date for the past three years and the percentage of the total crops of those years ginned to September 25th for North and South Carolina is as follows:

North Carolina, 93,642 bales, compared with 46,051 bales in 1910, when 61 per cent. was ginned; 80,498 bales in 1909, when 12.1 per cent. was ginned and 89.3 bales in 1908 when 16.0 per cent. was ginned.

South Carolina, 339,111 compared with 160,521 bales in 1910, when 13.3 per cent. was ginned; 285,401 bales in 1909 when 25.1 per cent. was ginned and 289,969 bales in 1908 when 25.8 per cent. was ginned.

DR. GEO. DENNY RESIGNS

Leaves Virginia to Accept Presidency of Alabama University

Richmond, Va., Oct. 2.—Dr. Geo. H. Denny, president of Washington and Lee University, at Lexington, Va., has resigned that position the resignation to take effect January 1st, 1912, in order to accept the presidency of the University of Alabama. He makes the announcement in a letter to the rector of the former university which is dated September 30th and will be made public for the first time tomorrow morning. His reason for making the change is that the new position "will give him ampler opportunity to serve the general cause of education, to which he has pledged his life."

It is not a question of salary, he continues, but a question of service.

OUTLINES.

Desperate efforts are being made to recover the dead in the flood-swept town of Austin. The supposed number of dead is much less than first reported; 24 bodies were taken from the ruins yesterday and 86 persons are missing.——It is predicted that the Turko-Italian war will be the shortest and most bloodless on record. Germany is acting as peace-maker and the trouble may be settled without a long conflict. Italy will not consider mediation until her forces occupy the Tripolitan coast.——Rear Admiral Schley, retired, a notable naval figure, dropped to the street yesterday in New York and expired before medical attention reached him. He was one of the naval heroes of the Spanish-American war——The cotton crop this season will be the biggest on record, according to the government condition report issued yesterday.

New York markets: Money on call steady 1 3-4 to 2 3-8 per cent., ruling rate 2 3-8, closing bid 2, offered at 2 1-2; flour was about steady with a moderate trade; wheat spot easy, No. 2 red 99 elevator export basis and 1.00 fob afloat; corn spot firm, No. 2, 70 1-2 elevator domestic basis to arrive and 75 3-4 fob afloat export grade; oats spot steady, mixed nominal; rosin steady; spot cotton closed 14 points lower, middling uplands 10.20, middling gulf 10.45.

YIELD OF COTTON WILL BE RECORD

Government Condition Report Indicates Bumper Crop This Season.

PRICE OF STAPLE GOES DOWN

Improvement in Condition in North Carolina and Texas—Greatest Planted Area Ever Known—By States

Washington, Oct. 2.—The cotton crop of the growing season of 1911, which early in the year gave indications that it would be one of the largest in the history of the industry, will be approximately 13,868,337 bales of 500 pounds, or about 200,000 more than the record year of 1904. This was indicated by the final condition report of the Department of Agricultural issued today at noon, which showed the crop to be 71.1 per cent. of a normal on September 25th.

While there were declines in the condition in most States, there was an improvement of 2 per cent. in Texas and 1 per cent. in North Carolina.

With an indicated yield of 195 pounds to the acre as unofficially estimated from today's condition figures and the greatest planted area on record 35,040,000 acres, the 1911 crop undoubtedly will go down as the biggest on record.

The estimated production of cotton based on the condition figures of today's report shows the crop of Texas to be almost 1,000,000 bales more than last year. Georgia, Alabama, Arkansas, Louisiana and Mississippi show good increases while South Carolina showed a decrease.

The estimated production, recorded by the Department of Agriculture's official method from the Crop Reporting Board condition figures with comparison of last year by States, follow:

States:	1911.	1910
Virginia	17,400	14,185
North Carolina	720,000	720,850
South Carolina	1,121,800	1,191,929

California	8,200	6,186

Condition by States

The Crop Reporting Board of the Bureau of Statistics of the Department of Agriculture, in its October cotton report issued at noon today, estimated from the reports of the correspondent and agents of the Bureau, that the condition of the cotton crop on September 25th was 71.1 per cent. of a normal, as compared with 73.2 per cent. on August 25th, 1911; 64.9 per cent. on September 25th, 1910; 58.5 per cent. on September 25th, 1909, and 66.5 per cent. the average of the past ten years on September 25th.

CARRYING MAIL BY AERO.

Earle L. Ovington Appointed by Postmaster General.

Washington, Oct. 2.—Transportation of United States mail across the continent by aeroplane, over an officially designated route, by a special mail messenger appointed by Postmaster General Hitchcock, is a test that will be undertaken this week.

Earle L. Ovington, one of the aviators who achieved fame at the recent Nassau, L. I., meet and who was designated by Mr. Hitchcock to carry the mails over a short route between Long Island and New York City is completing preparations for the long and perilous feat of transporting official mail across the continent, from New York to Los Angeles, in his airship.

Postmaster General Hitchcock issued an order today authorizing Ovington to act as a mail carrier and directing the postmaster at New York to dispatch letters by the aeroplane route.

Officially, the special mail messenger route is numbered "Route 607,001." It is the longest mail messenger route ever established.

A special mail pouch has been made for Ovington to carry, and will contain letters for Chicago delivery as well as for delivery in Los Angeles.

The aeroplane will carry a small sign bearing the words, "United States Mail."

No date for the beginning of the flight yet has been announced, but Ovington has assured the Postoffice Department that he will start from New York within a day or two.

The French Millinery Parlors will have on display a full line of exclusive pattern hats Tuesday, October 3rd. 2t.

TAFT MEETS BRYAN AT HOME

Banquet in Honor of President at Lincoln, Nebraska—Taft Now on Way to Denver—Strenuous Trip.

Hastings, Neb., Oct. 2.—President Taft sped across the State of Nebraska today and tonight is on his way to Denver, where he is due at 9 o'clock tomorrow. Mr. Taft spent a part of the forenoon in Omaha, stopping for two hours at Lincoln, the home of his former political adversary, William J. Bryan, and was entertained this evening at a banquet.

Mr. Bryan helped to welcome the President to Lincoln and at the Commercial Club luncheon was proposed the health of the chief executive in the "beverage upon which the Almighty has set the seal of his approval" and it was drunk in sparkling water. Mr. Taft and Mr. Bryan exchanged felicitations and seemed as always to enjoy their meeting.

The entertainment at Omaha, at Lincoln and here tonight, was of a non-partisan character, but the atmosphere was surcharged with politics.

Mr. Taft got a hearty welcome in all three cities. At Lincoln it seemed that the entire population had turned out. But the Republican leaders, with whom the President and Secretary Hilles talked, were anything but optimists over the prospect of harmonizing the party difficulties in the State.

Governor Aldrich accompanied the President on his trip from Omaha, but the Presidential party had scarcely left Lincoln before there was made public a letter from the governor announcing that he would support Senator LaFollette for the Presidential nomination and that his decision to do so was unequivocal. Governor Aldrich's letter was addressed to Ross Hammond, collector of internal revenue at Omaha, and was intended to set at rest rumors that his adherence to the LaFollette movement was but luke warm. Friends of the governor declared that he had hesitated to use the influence of his position to sway members of the party, but that now he had determined to let every one know just where he stands, regardless of consequences.

"I am for Senator LaFollette for President of the United States and I don't care who knows it," is Governor Aldrich's statement appearing today in a paper published at Fremont, Neb. "I don't think President Taft should be nominated and I am entitled to that belief. He still has an opportunity to do something by way of redeeming the platform pledges of his party, and if he does there may be no occasion for any other candidate, but if he does not do better in the future than he has done in the past, he not only will not be nominated, but he will be defeated if nominated."

Governor Aldrich delivered an address of welcome to President Taft at the banquet extended him in Lincoln today.

At Omaha and Lincoln, Mr. Taft spoke on world peace. Here he again took up the tariff vetoes. The President declared international peace was one subject on which he and Mr. Bryan agreed. And to the plaudits of the latter's fellow townsmen, Mr. Taft gave Mr. Bryan credit of having suggested one of the most important provisions of the pending treaties of arbitration between the United States and Great Britain and France.

He referred to the clause creating a high joint commission to consider questions of difference before they finally are referred to arbitral court, and to the further provision that this commission should take a full year to consider its findings and recommendations. In his discussion of the treaties today Mr. Taft made his first reference to Japan and expressed the hope that that country might come into such an agreement with this.

In his speech on the tariff here, the President said he expected the tariff board to report in favor of reductions in the cotton and woolen schedules and that he would recommend these reductions to Congress.

KILLS HIS FIRST COUSIN.

T. J. Flake Shoots Samuel T. Smith at Lislesville.

Lilesville, Oct. 1.—Samuel T. Smith was shot and instantly killed on the streets of Lilesville at 5 o'clock this afternoon by T. J. Flake, his first cousin, who was drinking.

Smith had just returned from a drive to Blewitt's Falls, driving a balky horse, which stopped in the streets near the square. Flake came up and told Smith he could make the horse go and proceeded to get in the buggy. Smith told him if he (Flake) was going to drive, he (Smith) would get out, and he left the buggy. Flake taking exception at his cousin's actions, followed him from the vehicle Drawing a 38-calibre Smith & Wesson pistol, he shot at Smith and as the latter ran around the postoffice building, Flake continued to shoot four shots, two of which took effect, the last passing through his neck, immediately above the shoulders, from which death followed in 15 minutes.

Smith was a flagman on the Seaboard Air Line Railroad. Flake is a carpenter. Both are from good families. Flake was taken into custody immediately.

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 2.—The post season series between All-stars and the Rochester champions is declared off. This information was received by the News, this afternoon from President Edward G. Barrow, of the Eastern League, by telephone. The league's chief official declared the series at an end because of the refusal of President Charles T. Chapin, of the Rochester club, to permit the game scheduled for Rochester today.

CONFLICT IN EAST IS LESS SERIOUS

Turko-Italian War to be the Shortest and Most Bloodless on Record.

GERMANY ACTING PEACEMAKER

No Mediation Will Be Accepted by Italy Until Military Occuption of Tripolitan Coast—Features Plans on Foot

London, Oct. 2.—From present appearances, the Turco-Italian war promises to be the shortest and most bloodless war in history. Thus far its distinguishing characteristic has been the absence of fighting and with Germany acting as peace-maker it may be ended before fighting takes place.

It is concluded that no mediation will be accepted by Italy until she has accomplished the military occupation of the Tripolitan coast. After that negotiations will be much easier and are unlikely to the successful if Turkey will accept a money indemnity for allowing Italy to establish herself in Tripoli, as Great Britain did in Egypt.

The news filtering in from various points continue to be a negative kind. Evidently Tripoli has not been bombarded and is not likely to be, if the do not oppose the Italian landing. The warlike operations are confined to a blockade and the capture on either side of a few small vessels.

It is now admitted from the Turkish side that Prevsa in European Turkey, is not occupied. Italy's announcement that she has no intention to carry the war into European Turkey will do much to allay apprehension over the Balkan and other complications.

Turkish ministerial difficulties have not been solved, but generally the situation looks more hopeful.

Turkish Transport Shelled

Rome, Oct. 2.—A dispatch to the Tribuna from Malta says that a steamer which arrived there at 6 o'clock this evening brought news that the Turkish transport Derna had been shelled and sunk in the harbor of Tripoli. It confirmed other advices that the bombardment would not begin until Tuesday in order to give the population time to withdraw.

Austria Warns Italy

London, Oct. 2.—A dispatch received here by a news agency from Vienna says that Count Von Aehrenthal, the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister has informed the Italian ambassador that any further action by Italians on the Albanian coast will make it necessary for Austria to dispatch warships thither. Count Von Aehrenthal asked the ambassador how he reconciled Italy's naval movements in the vicinity of Albiana with her declaration that she was keeping her hands off the Balkan peninsular.

The Italian ambassador tonight absolutely denied to the foreign minister that Italians had been landed at Prevesa and emphatically assured him that Italy would leve Albania entirely alone.

Such Talk Premature.

Chiasso, Switzerland, (On the Italian Frontier), Oct. 2.—Advices received here which emanate from official circles in Rome say reports in circulation that the powers are contemplating intervening in the war between Italy and Turkey are premature. It is added that a majority of the powers, when advised that war had been declared, notified Italy that they would observe a policy of neutrality.

It is said that Great Britain and Germany, through their respective ambassadors at Constantinople, are sounding the Turkish government on a compromise proposition, but that intervention by the powers will be impossible of acceptance until the occupation of Tripoli by the Italians has been announced.

From information received in Rome doubt has arisen there as to the accuracy of the report that the entire Turkish fleet had entered the Dardanelles and it is assumed that the report was sent abroad to deceive the Italians, the idea of the Turkish being to cause them to relax their vigilance and cease their chase of Turkish warships that had not yet reached a zone of safety.

Other reports from Rome indicate that Italian government circles are entirely indifferent to what is termed "the hostile and perhaps interested adverse comment of certain newspapers," on Italy's movement in the Adriatic sea against Turkey.

At the navy department it was positively asserted today that Italy's diplomatic preparation for the military move against Turkey was assented to by the powers and that Italy had loyally respected the conditions under which she received this assent. It was added that she would continue to respect these terms which include limitations of the zone of conflict to Tripoli and avoidance of carrying the hostilities into European or Asiatic Turkey. The limitation of the war zone, however, does not extend to the high seas. Therefore the Italian fleet has only one purpose in view, that being to carry out the provisions of the ultimatum to Turkey, which calls for the military occupation of Tripoli.

Reports received here say that the torpedo boats Membre and Arpia came into collision while cruising, but suffered little damage. They were, how-

Pittsburg, Oct. 2.—The New York team appeared in the closing game of the local baseball season today defeating Pittsburg by a score of 3 to 0. It was an exceptionally well played contest. The pre-eminent feature was the pitching of Wiltse, who held the local batsmen to two singles, one of a decidedly scratchy character. Not a Pittsburg player reached second base and only four got to first.

In all only 28 men faced Wiltse, one of whom received a base on balls. The fielding of both sides was sharp, many being brilliant plays.

CITY LEAGUE AVERAGES

Records Made by Individual Players at Batting End

A compilation of the batting averages of the City League brings out the fact that there are 54 players who have participated in 6 or more games and 97 players altogether who have played in the game one or more times. We will endeavor to give a correct list of those participating in six or more games, although we cannot give the complete list of all the players.

Heading the list is Duls, who has played in six games and has a record of 10 hits in 19 times at bat, giving him a percentage of .526. The others follow with times at bat and percentage: Terry, 69, .377; McEachern, 20, .240; Rhodes, 22, .318; Wessell, 51, .314; Shaw, 35, .314; Starritt, 55, .291; Green, 45, .289; Houston, 55, .275; Parker, 51, .275; Taylor, T., 40, .275; McCravy, 30, .267; Boswell, 19, .263; Wright, 59, .254; Orrell, L., 76, .250; Bell, 54, .242; Moore, 25, .238; Lewis, 26, .231; Jewell, 22, .227; Quinney, 22, .227; Grainger, V., 31, .226; Smith, 33, .226; Gore, 57, .211; Trust, 39, .210; Watson, 43, .209; Whitehead, 24, .208; Hines, 55, .200; Mintz, 46, .196; Carraway, 46, .196; Gore, (B. B.), 41, .195; Schulken, 27, .185; Brittain, 28, .179; Smith, (B. B.), 34, .177; Calder, 42, .167; Taylor, P, 18, .167; Betts, 18, .167; Emerson, 63, 159; Bergen, J., 55, .159; Taylor, C., 47, .149; Bergen, C., 34,, .147; Burnett, 64, .141; Davis, L. T., 31, .129; King, 17, .118; Lacy, 53, .133; Houston, Roddy, 18, .111; Grainger, L., 18, .111; Montgomery, B., 64, .109; Davis, C. W., 49, .102; Goldberg, 32, .087; LeMoyne, 24, .083; Jones, 40, .075; Hines, (B. B.), 14, .071; Westbrook, 16, .062; Houston, Ben., 19, .053.

Counting up the stolen bases for the season, the Coast Line leads with 108 appropriated cushions to their credit, followed by the Y. M. C. A. with 70; W. L. I., 66, and Boys' Brigade 51.

Only two three-base hits were made during the entire season, Calder, of the W. L. I., and Terry, of the A. C. L. teams taking this honor. Hines, of the A. C. L. team, scored the greatest number of runs, being credited with 20 in 16 games. Wright, also of the Railroaders, stole 15 bases in 17 games; Bob Houston, 14 in 15 games, and Hines, of the A. C. L., 12 in 14 games, these athletes showing real "Ty Cobbian" ability in their base running and pillow purloining proclivities. To Charlie Terry belongs the lone honor of hitting the Bull Durham sign, which he swatted a fairly batted ball on May 13th last.

It will be noted that the fast Atlantic Coast Liners lead in everything—team fielding, team batting, sacrifice hits, stolen bases and long hits, which clearly demonstrates that they are fairly entitled to the championship of the city, as well as the possession of the handsome Tidewater trophy.

IN RE: THE WORLD'S SERIES

As Doped Out With Regard to Slabmen of The Two Teams

The all-absorbing topic among the fans, now that it is practically assured that it will be the Giants and Athletics who will clash for the biggest baseball honors of the world, is which of these teams will come out the unchallenged victors of the world in the American game of baseball. All the sport writers over the country are having their say-so and giving their opinions to back it up and there is hardly an individual who is not betting on one or the other to come out winner.

Grantland Rice seems to think it all depends on the twirlers of the respective teams more than any other objective point, and says that the conditions of the pitching corps is by long odds the greatest factor in summing up success or failure, with an added "if" Matty and Marquard are right the Giants should win. "McGraw will depend mainly in this series upon Mathewson and Marquard—the greatest right-hander in the game and one of the most spectacular of all left-handers. Wiltse, another heady side-wheeler, will get third call. Mack will depend more upon Bender and Coombs with Ed. Plank figured close behind. This brings Mathewson, Marquard and Wiltse against Bender, Coombs and Plank."

Of the lot, Mathewson is without a doubt the greatest in the lot, being almost as good as in 1905 when he shut out the Athletics three straight games, and when he works the Giants will go into the games with all confidence. Bender is only a shade below and is one of the most feared boxmen on Mack's payroll, and a pitching duel between him and Mathewson should be one of the greatest sporting sights of modern times.

Marquard and Coombs are both brilliant and both inclined to be erratic. Marquard has as much stuff as any slabman in the game and if he gets to going good he will be one of the hardest on the team to beat. He is unsteady at times, but this seems to develop in games against weaker teams. Coombs is a great pitcher, but is even more erratic than McGraw's great southpaw. He trimmed the Cubs three times last Fall without pitching one first-class game. If he and Marquard are at their best it will be a duel worth witnessing but either or both are very liable to be badly off form.

Plank and Wiltse are along equal lines; both are veteran southpaws who know how to pitch and who carry the stuff, and they, if used, may prove more effective than the stars involved in the world-wide argument.

Ranging them all alongside, the Giants seem to have a shade the better of it, through the almost sure effectiveness of Mathewson and the mighty possibilities which Marquard affords.

Chance's people state that a team with two good pitchers has a great chance to upset Mack's club, as his team is much stronger upon attack than upon defense. They figure that Myers, behind the bat, will be the storm center and that if the Indian can curb the fleet Philadelphians upon the tow paths, the Giants should win, as they believe Mathewson and Marquard can stop them in other respects.

In short, this is what Mack's team must go up against: The National League's two leading pitchers, Mathewson and Marquard; a catcher, Myers, who has tied with Wagner as the league's best batter; a team that is leading at bat with an average of .270, and tem tht hs set the highest mark in stolen bases at this date of the schedule.

ANOTHER MASS MEETING

Called by the Recall Agitators—Meeting of Committee

In the office of K. C. Sidbury, Esq., on Princess street, last night, was held a meeting of the steering committee of the recall movement begun a few weeks ago when dissatisfaction over the sanitary tin cans was at its height but has subsided to a considerable extent since that time. Several phases of the movement were considered at the meeting last night. The principal action was the decision to hold another mass meeting in the Court House on the night of October 25th at which time it is hoped to make the final arrangements for ousting the Mayor and Councilmen. At the mass meeting it will be definitely decided when the petition for the recall is to be presented to the Council and other arrangements incident to a campaign, such as raising funds, etc., will be made. Mr. Sidbury said that the petition has been signed by something over 1,300 citizens who are anxious for a change in the administration of the affairs of the city.

ENGINEER GRANTS PETITION

Tugs May Pass Dredges With More Than One Vessel in Tow for Three Months—Engineer Suggests Investigation.

Answering the protest of the Chamber of Commerce, filed some time ago, against a certain regulation governing navigation on the Cape Fear river at and below Wilmington, Capt. L. H. Rand, United States engineer in charge of this district, has sent to the organization a communication in which he announces that he has temporarily suspended that portion of the regulation which restricts the number of vessels in tow of one tug while passing any dredge; suggests that this removes any cause which might have existed to justify an increase in towage on the river, and recommends to the body that it take action looking to an investigation by the proper legal authorities to ascertain if the towage companies are not indictable under the anti-trust law, both State and National.

The letter to the Chamber of Commerce is as follows:

"Wilmington, N. C., Sept. 29, 1911.
"Wilmington Chamber of Commerce, Wilmington, N. C.

"Gentlemen:—I enclose mimeograph copy of regulations for the navigation of Cape Fear river as recently amended in sections four and five. I also enclose a notice of the suspension, pursuant to the authority therein vested in me, for the time being, of the requirements of certain portions thereof.

"I would invite your attention to the fact that this renders entirely without its alleged foundation any reason for such increase of towage charges on the river as was announced by the Diamond Steamboat & Wrecking Company, E. D. Williams, and the Wilmington Towing Co., R. R. Stone, president, last Spring when the regulations went into effect. (See advertisement in the Wilmington Star of Sunday, April 2, 1911.)

"Printed copies of these regulations will be later furnished.

"It is hoped that your body will take steps looking to the maintenance of reasonable towage charges.

"I am advised that even where the restrictions previously in force have been specifically waived, the towing concern has not shared the advantage with the ships towed, but has charged for towage at the rate increased, ostensibly, to meet an added cost required by the regulations.

"I would also recommend that you take action looking to an investigation by the proper legal authorities, both State and National, as to whether the conditions existing in the local towage situation do not justify prosecution under the penal statutes for monopolies or combinations in restraint of trade.

"I take the liberty also of distributing copies of this letter to persons and others interested, in order to bring the matter of change in regulations and suitability of cheaper towage to the attention of all concerned.

"Very respectfully,
"L. H. RAND,
"Captain, Corps of Engineers, U. S. Army."

The amended sections of the regulations referred to by the engineer are as follows:

"4. While a pipe line dredge is operating therein, no vessel drawing over 15 feet is to navigate Snow's Marsh Cut between the upper quarantine buoy and buoy No. 3, from sundown until sun-up, unless by special written permission of the district engineer officer; and any vessel to which such permission has been granted, or which draws less than 15 feet, must so navigate as not to require the breaking of any pipe line for its passage.

"5. Tugs with more than one vessel in tow will not be allowed to pass any dredge at work in the channel; provided that, when, in his judgment, dredging operations and other conditions may justify it, the district engineer officer may by public notice suspend this rule to such extent and for such period as may to him seem proper."

Paragraph five was amended on September 21st, 1911, to read as above quoted. Prior to that time it did not contain the proviso. Acting under the authority vested in him by that paragraph Capt. Rand says:

"The public is hereby notified that the restriction on the number of vessels in tow of one tug while passing any dredge is hereby suspended until December 31, 1911, inclusive."

CHANGES AT LIBRARY

Miss Woodward Resigns—Miss Emerson New Librarian.

Miss Elizabeth P. Woodward has tendered her resignation as librarian at the Wilmington Public Library to take effect October 1st. She has been in charge of the library for two years or more and has managed affairs theer in a way which reflects much credit upon her ability.

Miss Woodward is succeeded as librarian by Miss Elsie Emerson, while Miss LeGrand will fill the position of assistant librarian. Miss Emerson has been connected with the library for some time and she is quite familiar with the duties which will devolve upon her. Miss LeGrand has also had experience in the library and is well fitted to take up the work of assistant to Miss Emerson.

A number of new books have been received at the library recently and are in much demand by the public.

BACK FROM LONG TRIP

Dr. Russell Bellamy and Dr. J. J. Crow Have Fine Outing

After a 1,500-mile trip extending over a period of a week during which time they visited western North Carolina, parts of Tennessee, West Virginia, Virginia and District of Columbia, having one of the most delightful outings it given to man to enjoy, Dr. Russell Bellamy and Dr. J. J. Crow returned to the city last evening.

Speaking of Virginia Dr. Bellamy said that the counties of Tazewell, Russel and Wise have floated nearly $1,500,000 worth of bonds for good roads. The mountains of these counties are coal giving and pastural. Dr. Bellamy and Dr. Crow were royally entertained by Mr. Henry C. Stuart on his magnificent estate covering an area of 30 miles in length by eight in width. Mr. Stuart is the best known pasturist in that section and grazes about 400,000 head of cattle a year, besides raising many prize winning colths. "This gentleman," said Dr. Ballamy, "is a nephew of the South's most famous calvary general, Maj.-Gen. J. E. B. Stuart, whose ride around the Federal army before Richmond, a feat said to be unrivaled in daring and expediency, to say nothing of disturbing the confidence of an enemy, in the annals of war. Mr. Stuart will unodubtedly be the next Governor of the commonwealth of Virginia and as one of his guests expressed it, "I cannot imagine a man better fitted in every way to serve the historical commonwealth and at the same time contain better presidential timber than the Democratic gentleman, Henry C. Stuart."

Business Men Interested.

Mr. John S. Ramos returned to the city yesterday after an absence of a week and immediately went to work on the scheme which he is promoting to advertise Wilmington by having Capt. Adolph Freitsch, the "Lone Mariner," to sail across the Atlantic in a 40-foot schooner, manned only by himself, with a bale of cotton from this port. Mr. Ramos stated that every business man he explained the proposition to was greatly interested and all contributed freely. He expects to be at work on the proposition for the rest of the week, as he has until Saturday to raise the necessary amount.

Why is the soda cracker to-day such a universal food?

People ate soda crackers in the old days, it is true—but they bought them from a barrel or box and took them home in a paper bag, their crispness and flavor all gone.

To-day there is a soda cracker which is the recognized staple — Uneeda Biscuit.

Uneeda Biscuit are the most nutritious food made from flour and should be eaten every day by every member of the family from the youngest to the oldest.

Uneeda Biscuit—soda crackers better than any ever made before—made in the greatest bakeries in the world—baked to perfection—packed to perfection—kept to perfection until you take them, oven-fresh and crisp, from their protecting package.

SENDS PROTEST TO OFFICIAL

City Does Not Relish Action of Seaboard Conductor in Refusing to Co-Operate With Local Police Officers.

Following the action of a conductor on Seaboard Air Line train No. 44 Saturday night when he compelled Sergeant C. S. Burnett and Patrolman Bullard, of the police department, to pay their fares when they boarded his train at Hilton Park in search for Bud Bennett, a negro wanted at Wadesboro, and refused to co-operate with the officers, the legal department of the city yesterday made formal protest of the matter to the general counsel of the road. The following copy of the letter was filed with Mayor Joseph D. Smith, at the city hall, and it is self-explanatory:

"Oct. 2, 1911.

"Dear Sir:—An incident reported to me as occurring here on Sept. 30th, ult., I feel should be brought to your attention. The Police Department received a telegram on Sept. 30th, from Bladenboro, N. C., asking them to look out for one Bud Bennett, a negro, wanted for murder at Wadesboro, N. C., and supposed to be on S. A. L. train No. 44, due to arrive at Wilmington at 11:59 P. M. that night. Acting on this request, the captain of police, here, detailed Sergeant C. S. Burnett, and Patrolman Bullard, of the local force, to meet the train near the outskirts of the city, in order to locate the party, if aboard. These officers, one in full uniform and the other with his badge of office, met the train on the west side of the N. E. river, at the approach to the bridge, just outside of the city, and a stopping place for all trains. In company with the bridge watchman, stationed at that point, the officers report that after the train had stopped they boarded it, one getting into the front end of the negro coach and the other, with the watchman, on the rear end. They made known their business to the conductor, the sergeant going so far as to show him the telegram, he reports, but instead of getting the assistance and co-operation which they had the right to expect, they report that the conductor was most discourteous, would listen to no explanations, replied that he did not know what negroes were on his train, compelled the sergeant to pay fares for himself, his patrolman, and the railroad bridge watchman, and insolently charged the officers with boarding his train to beat a ride out of the company. The fares collected are too trivial, amounting to only thirty cents, to raise a howl about, and probably the company had the right to demand them. In view, however, of the business on which these men were engaged and the fact that police protection is needed by your company here and is always given when asked for, we feel that a protest is justified in the present instance and that we have the right to expect co-operation and courtesy from all employes of your company in matters pertaining to this department and its efforts to assist in the enforcement and execution of law. I have orally notified Mr. Fetter, the company's agent here, of the officers' report, and, as I expected, he has promised to have the matter investigated. I notified him that I would call the matter to your attention also and he deemed it well to do so. In passing I will say that heretofore, as a rule, so far as my personal knowledge goes, the employes of your company have always extended this department the courtesy and co-operation we had the right to expect. I trust that this matter will receive a thorough investigation, and I am confident that it will. Two or three incidents of this kind would have a demoralizing effect so far as the police of this city are concerned.

"Yours very truly,

"GEO. L. PESCHAU.

"Asst. City Attorney."

Death of Mrs. T. A. Jones.

Mrs. Sarah Street Jones, wife of Mr. T. A. Jones, of Councils, Bladen county, died early yesterday morning at the James Walker Memorial Hospital. The body was carried to Councils on the afternoon train yesterday, and the funeral and interment will take place there. Mr. Jones will have the tenderest sympathy of his many friends in this city, as well as at his home.

SAVES TOWN BY MAD RACE.

Cyclist Speeds Down Valley as Flood Roars Behind Him.

Costello, Pa., Oct. 1.—While the town of Costello was almost destroyed by the flood, its death list is only two. The victims are Edward W. Earle and Mrs. Hodges. That the fatalities were not proportionately as large as those in Austin is due to a dramatic and successful warning given of the impending disaster.

Edward Young, a workman in the Standard lumber mill, in Austin, and whose home is in Costello, heard the roar of the flood while it was still a half mile away, and his first thought as he saw the wall of water was of his wife and little ones here, three miles from the mill. He measured the torrent's speed with his eye, then, coatless and hatless, jumped on his bicycle and sped for Costello.

Down the three-mile valley he pedalled with the roar ever swelling behind him. He shouted a warning as he sped past isolated houses, whose occupants fled to the hilltops. Two minutes in the van of the flood, he dashed into Costello shrieking his message, and Costello almost to a man fled.

Young gained his home, burst into the house, shouted to his wife, and between them they carried their children to safety.

MR. MANLEY WINGAR RAY

Accidentally Killed at Wananish—Columbus Crop Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Whiteville, N. C., Oct. 2.—Mr. Manley Wingard Ray, aged 52 years, was last week killed at Wananish by having a truck of lumber belonging to the Windward Lumber Company, fall on him. He was carried at once to the James Walker Memorial Hospital, in Wilmington, but died soon after reaching there. Mr. Ray was in the best of health, and was laughing in a conversation with some of his associates when the sad and unfortunate accident occurred. He was one of the best citizens of Columbus county, and highly esteemed by all who knew him. He leaves a widow, six boys and one little girl. The remains were interred in the family burial ground at Smith's Crossing near Hallsboro.

A surprise marriage took place last evening, at 4 o'clock, when Mr. Robert Jackson Powell and Miss Elizabeth Smith Toon quietly drove over to Chadbourn and were married by Rev. F. T. Wooten. No one had any knowledge of the marriage until the bans were pronounced, except a few intimate friends. The happy young couple left on the afternoon train for Winter Garden, Fla., at which point they will make their future home. The groom is the handsome and popular son of Hon. R. H. Powell, one of Whiteville's leading merchants, and the bride is the accomplished and charming daughter of Col. A. F. Toon, claim agent of the Seaboard Air Line Railway. Their many friends wish them a long life and happiness.

Editor Gantt yesterday took a drive through the country, spending the day with Mr. Wm. G. Howell, who farms on the old Powell place, about six miles from Whiteville, returning through the Smyrna section. Mr. Gantt says he never saw finer crops in his life. The fields are white with cotton, but the trouble is getting hands to pick the staple. Mr. Howell has fifty acres in cotton and Mr. Gantt says with an average Fall he will make over a bale per acre. From one ten-acre field Mr. Howell has gathered five bales, and you can't miss it. He thinks that field is good for at least ten more bales. He saw cotton as tall as a man could reach, loaded with bolls from top to bottom. He also saw on his rounds the finest yields of corn, potatoes, sugar cane, peas, and everything else this land produces. There was never such crops growing as have now matured in Columbus county. Every farmer Mr. Gantt met says he intends to hold his cotton, having arranged to meet his obligations. This is certainly a wonderful country, and is fast being settled up. Last week Mr. Gantt received letters of inquiry about farming lands from capitalists in Florida, Atlanta, Ga., and several Western States.

Mrs. D. T. Williamson, of Range, Ala., is now visiting in Fair Bluff, but is expected this week in Whiteville as the guest of Mrs. J. I. Williamson.——Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Davis, of Wilmington, spent the week-end in Whiteville with their brother, Mayor W. R. Davis.——Miss Nattie Fern Ellis, who has been visiting the Misses Smith here for the past two weeks returned to her home in Wilmington on Monday——Mrs. R. C. Powell is visiting in Winston-Salem.

Destroyed Entire Business Block—A New Paper for Tabor.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Tabor, N. C., Oct. 2.—One of the most disastrous fires that our town has suffered for a number of years started Saturday night at 7:30, destroying nearly a whole block in the business section of town. The fire was first discovered in the upper story of John Todd's store, and in a very few minutes the whole store was ablaze. By heroic efforts on the part of the citizens of the town part of his stock of groceries and provisions was saved.

An adjoining store belonging to Mr. D. L. Harrelson was burned as was also a beef market run by Mr. J. W. Danford; a blacksmith shop owned by Mr. Grover Harrelson, and a barn and stables belonging to Mr. V. A. Todd. Nearly all the contents of these buildings were saved. The postoffice building was badly damaged by fire and water, the 'bucket brigade" of about 500 citizens putting in some excellent work, which was the only means of fighting the demon.

Mrs. V. A. Todd was the heaviest loser as three of the buildings burned were her property. There was not a particle of insurance on any of the buildings or goods. The postoffice building is damaged to the extent of $75 or $100.

The Tabor Publishing Company met on Tuesday night and elected the following officers: C. D. Harrelson, president; A. M. Anderson, vice president; C. W. Eason, secretary and treasurer; C. D. Harrelson, A. M. Anderson, C. W. Eason, R. M. Garrell and J. L. Lewis, board of directors. The above company was recently chartered by the Secretary of State, which authorized capital stock of $2,000.00 for the purpose of publishing a newspaper and doing a general printing business, and will in a few days begin the publication of the Tabor News. The machinery was recently bought from the Southern Printers Supply Co., of Washington, D. C., and is now being installed. Mr. W. R. Holmes, formerly of the Brunswick Sentinel, at Shallotte, N. C., has been appointed manager of the corporation.

WHY HAVE GRAY HAIR

Sage and Sulphur Will Restore Gray and Faded Hair to Its Natural Color

There is nothing new about the idea of using sage for restoring the color of the hair. Our great-grandmothers kept their locks soft, dark and glossy by using a "sage tea." Whenever their hair fell out or took on a dull, faded or streaked appearance they made a brew of sage leaves and applied it to their hair, with wonderfully beneficial effect.

Nowadays we don't have to resort to old-time, tiresome methods of gathering the herbs and making the tea. This is done by skilled chemists better than we could do it ourselves, and all we have to do is to call for the ready-made product, Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, containing sage in the proper strength, with the addition of sulphur, another old-time scalp remedy.

The manufacturers of this remedy authorize druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

Don't neglect your hair. Get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur today, and notice the difference after a few days' use.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists.

PERMIT TO BURY BEATTIE.

Granted by Cemeteries Committee at Request of Family.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 2.—It leaked out today that the cemeteries committee of the Richmond City Council, in secret session a week ago, took a special action to permit the family of Henry C. Beattie, Jr., to bury his body in the Maury cemetery here if he is electrocuted on November 24th, for the murder of his wife.

The Beattie family lives in South Richmond, but their burial plot is in the Richmond cemetery and there is a city ordinance which prohibits the burial of a non-resident there.

It was represented on behalf of the family that in case the young man should die before the date set for his execution it might be difficult to get a quorum of the committee, and it was wished to guard against any distressing delays in the funeral arrangements.

SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Peoria, Ill.—"I wish to let every one know what Lydia E. Pinkham's remedies have done for me. For two years I suffered. The doctors said I had tumors, and the only remedy was the surgeon's knife. My mother bought me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and today I am a healthy woman. For months I suffered from inflammation, and your Sanative Wash relieved me. Your Liver Pills have no equal as a cathartic. Any one wishing proof of what your medicines have done for me can get it from any druggist or by writing to me. You can use my testimonial in any way you wish, and I will be glad to answer letters."—Mrs. CHRISTINA REED, 105 Mound St., Peoria, Ill.

Another Operation Avoided.

New Orleans, La.—"For years I suffered from severe female troubles. Finally I was confined to my bed and the doctor said an operation was necessary. I gave Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial first, and was saved from an operation."—Mrs. LILY PEYROUX, 1111 Kerlerec St., New Orleans, La.

The great volume of unsolicited testimony constantly pouring in proves conclusively that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a remarkable remedy for those distressing feminine ills from which so many women suffer.

S.S.S. FOR SUMMER SKIN DISEASES

During the summer most persons are annoyed with pimples, boils, rashes or eruptions, while others suffer more severely with Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Salt Rheum, or some kindred skin disease. All skin affections come from humors and acids in the circulation. The blood, as it circulates through the system, deposits these humors and acids in the sensitive membranous flesh which lies just beneath the outer skin. This acrid matter causes inflammation and a discharge which breaks through the delicate cuticle, and skin diseases are the result. To cure any skin trouble the blood must be freed from all acids and humors, and for this purpose nothing equals S.S.S. This great blood purifier completely removes every particle of the impurity, enriches the blood, and in this way permanently cures skin diseases. S. S. S. cures because it purifies the blood and thus does away with the cause. Book on skin diseases and any medical advice you may desire sent free. S.S.S. is for sale at drug stores.

PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENT.

THE MORNING STAR, the oldest daily newspaper in North Carolina, is published daily except Monday, at $6 per year, $3 for six months, $1.50 for three months, 50 cents for one month, served by carriers in the city, or by mail.

THE SUNDAY STAR, by mail, one year, $1; six months, 50 cents; three months, 25 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES may be had on application, and advertisers may feel assured that through the columns of this paper they may reach all Wilmington, Eastern Carolina and contiguous territory in South Carolina.

Obituary sketches, cards of thanks, communications espousing the cause of a private enterprise or a political candidate, and like matter, will be charged at the rate of 10 cents per line, or if paid cash in advance a half rate will be allowed. Announcements of fairs, festivals, balls, hops, picnics, society meetings, political meetings, etc., will be charged under same conditions, except so much thereof as may be of news value to readers of the paper.

Advertisements discontinued before expiration of contracts are charged transient rates for time actually published. Payment for transient advertisements must be cash in advance. Contract advertisers will not be allowed to exceed their space at same rates, or advertise anything foreign to their regular business without extra charge. Advertisements to occupy special place will be charged for according to position desired.

TELEPHONES: Business Office, No. 51; Editorial and Local rooms, No. 61. Call either, if the other doesn't answer.

COMMUNICATIONS, unless they contain important news, or discuss briefly and properly subjects of real interest, are not wanted; and if acceptable in every other way, they will invariably be rejected unless the real name of the author accompanies the same, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

Tuesday, October 3, 1911.

Some men are just simply crooked while others are merely slick propositions.

Some people are so unlucky they would be run over by a pushcart instead of an automobile.

A magazine writer is called a muckraker just as soon as he writes an article that nobody can refute.

Self-respect is inculcated from the go-cart to the automobile. An individual raised in a stable will never hitch his wagon to a star.

Jack Johnson says he intends to retire from the ring. If he will do it and promise not to try to "come back," it will raise our white hopes.

"Always defend yourself," advises a lecturer. That's all right, but if you can't prove an alibi, it's safer to pay a lawyer to defend you.

The trouble about President Taft's defense of his vetoes is that most of the gerat popular jury to which he is appealing is "from Missouri."

The cause of the war between Italy and Turkey is because Italy got tired seeing pripoli put down on the map, so it looks like it belongs to Turkey.

Mexico held her Presidential election last Sunday. Probably her elections are held on Sunday so good Mexicans won't be caught going to the polls to vote.

Even if President Taft can smile after the manner of a man who owns a band wagon, it must be remembered that he is the undemocratic candidate for President.

There is a great deal of difference in framing a commission form of government to meet the conditions of a city, and in framing one to meet the wishes of the politicians.

"Gayly the troubadour touched his guitar," And tickled the ear of the girl he was after; A latter day swain takes a big motor car, And he goes after the girl he is after.

Why should President Taft be making a 13,000 trip when he could just as well be taking it easy? It's simply because he had to do something to try to change his luck.

Says the Chicago News: "Society shocks a lot of people who are not in it." The fact is, society would be all right if it weren't for some of the people who break into it.

A few North Carolina cities have decided to get what publicity can be had in gliding with the Glidden Tour from New York to Jacksonville in a couple of weeks.There are some towns you can't lose.

We are informed by a Washington dispatch that "Senator LaFollette is keeping in the background." We know not why it is thus, unless the Wisconsin Statesman is lagging in the background where there is no danger from the steam roller.

The Jacksonville Times-Union remarks: "A shy man will imitate the tactics of his older brother."Of course, he is taking all sorts of chances in doing any such thing, but, as a matter of fact, a shy man is a sly fellow who just isn't going to be caught if he can help it.

The Washington Herald states that "a Washington woman has had her husband arrested because he imagines he is a ball player." Probably she got that into her head because her husband strikes out as soon as he gets breakfast and has never been known to make a home run with a soup bone.

OPPORTUNITIES OF A CITY.

Milton, the English author of imperishable fame, in writing of the city of Hull nearly three hundred years ago, thus alluded to it: "Hull, a town of great strength and opportunity, both to sea and land affairs." Evidently, Milton was one of the great boosters of his time, for in defining the word "opportunity," with reference to a town, Webster's Unabridged Dictionary quotes the great author as we have just done. "There is nothing new under the sun," for we can go back to the Bible and prove that boosterism is as old as the hills. The Maker of the Universe was the first to appreciate this fine old world which He made and gave us, for after he had created it. "And God saw everything that He had made, and behold, it was very good." (Genesis 1-1.)

We look back into the Bible to find a magnificent boost of the Garden of Eden, and without going back through Biblical lore to quote the numerous instances of "fair lands" we cannot let pass the opportunity to say that in all probability Caleb and Joshua were the original advance agents of prosperity. They were the scouts sent out by Moses to spy out the "Land of Promise," and they were not slow to realize the advantages of the future settlement of the Children of Israel. They were no pessimists and no knockers—Joshua and Caleb—for they came back from their territorial inspection buoyant with optimism. In fact, after looking around to see what the opportunities and possibilities of the country were, they reported that it was "a land flowing with milk and honey." The Promised Land surely looked good to those Biblical boosters, for upon such a glowing account as they gave of the new country the Children of Israel pressed right on and possessed themselves of it.

Of course, we might speak about the methods of the Israelites in the acquisition of such territory as they wanted, but they did no more than this country did when the Philippines and Porto Rico looked so juicy to us Americanites, who merely imagine that "all power is vested in the consent of the governed." That was a mere theory which did not bother our heads when we faced a condition and not a theory. We found that the Filipinos were little brown men who didn't wear much more clothes than a young jaybird and about their only means of defense against our new idea of colonization was some such meanly weapons as bolos. Of course, we would let no bolo crowd scare us off and under such conditions we bought the whole outfit in part and licked the other part that was unwilling to give its consent to be governed like we proposed to do it.

By George, we have come very nearly drifting off from the subject, but we can so twist it around as to illustrate what is meant by the "opportunities" and "possibilities" of a city. We had the opportunity, or chance, to seize the Philippines and we did it, thus availing ourselves of what we thought was a fine opportunity. Of course, the opportuinties were there, but the possibilities were not what they were cracked up to be. We say this because we have so often spoken of the "opportunities and possibilities" of Wilmington and of the Nation's Garden Spot, that we think it is a good idea for us to understand each other. We emphasize, therefore, that our opportunities are the positive advantages and chances which we possess, while the possibilities are what it is possible for us to make out of the opportunities we seize.

We have many opportunities which we haven't seized and as a matter of course, we have to do some seizing before we can realize what are the real possibilities of our fine opportunities. As a matter of course, Wilmington's possibilities are great, but they depend altogether upon our seizing the splendid opportunities which confront us. "A land flowing with milk and honey" offered opportunities to the Children of Israel, and after they seized them and began to do business they found the possibilities were that every man could "live under his own fig tree." The Israelite who sat down and knocked about the way things had been going ever since they left Egypt, and who wanted to waste time telling about the troubles of the journey and nursing his sore toe, did not have any fig tree to live under. He neglected his opportunity to plant a fig tree and consequently he failed to develop the possibilities of fig culture.

Italy has seized the opportunity to do business in Tripoli, and although Tripoli has undergone great knocking from newspapers, we are inclined to believe the Italians are convinced of its possibilities—that is, what Trpoli can be developed into. Now snce we understand the opportunities and possibilities of Wilmington and eastern North Carolina, why the thunder don't we make the most of our opportunities and develop our possibilities?

The opportunities for making Wilmington a great industrial center and commercial port are legion. The opportunities for attracting settlers and making eastern North Carolina the most superb region in Christendom are far greater than those which Caleb and Joshua reported to Moses about the Land of Promise. The possibilities all around us are stupendous. Why should we eat our booster luncheons one night and suck our paws till the next time to get together and eat and honey-fuggle over our opportunities and possibilities?

NAL OPPORTUNITY.

In order to hold Wilmington's present commerce against all comers and increase its possibilities, the port has on hand a scheme to provide the harbor with municipally owned or public controlled water terminals. We know of no greater opportunity for building a Greater Wilmington, for the day that we shall make Wilmington a still greater shipping point that day we add unto our city all the possibilities for increasing its commerce and developng it into a great industrial centre. When we settle the transportation problem and make Wilmington a gateway port, everything will come easy.

Now that we have emerged from our Summer hammocks, let's get busy with our plan to vote bonds and furnish this port with the water terminals so adequate to the increase of our export and import business. We have planned big. Let us do something on a big scale and show that this city of growing commercial and banking business is a city in which constructve business men are doing business. The fact is, we have right here the constructive ability necessary, for the great commercial growth of the city, its rapidly expanding banking interessts, and its steady business development clearly indicates that men of the constructive class are active in the making of a Greater Wilmington. Some Wilmingtonians are doing big things rght now, and when we get astonshed at the progress they are making, let the balance of us join the movement and roll the Juggernaut right over the fellows who get in the way. Even Newbern is talking water terminals, and Congressman Small has been in that city stirring up its citizens on the importance of furnishing faclites for water traffic. Speakng of his efforts, the Newbern Journal says:

"Those who heard Congressman Small's address at the court house on Thursday night, could not fail to have been impressed with the importance the Congressman attached to water terminals, particularly as regards the control or ownership of these by the municipality. The Journal for years has called attention to this, making the application local. Every railroad seeking entrance to a city, as a rule, asks for concessions and privileges, bond issues, rights of way, property grants, exemption from taxation, one or as many of these as can be secured. A steamship line, any water transportation company, will want some token from a municipality that it is to receive a welcome worthy of the business it brings or can bring. Deeper waterway to Newbern from the ocean has only its value, as there may be provided here the docks and warehouses to accept and handle the commerce that comes, or that is brought to ship from this port. This municipality stands as a merchant seeking trade. Its rail and water facilities with the local provisions made to handle quckly and cheaply all goods brought in, or those going out, results in local benefits in the degree and to the extent that the transportation companies serve the trade. No steamship company would come to this port unless granted good business facilities. At present these are not here, and they will not be until there are municipal privileges to be granted, and until this city owns its own water terminals, and so is able to offer inducements, the matter of deeper waterway is of secondary importance, so far as real trade results are to be considered, and the growth of this port is to be attained."

Let Newbern go right ahead. She already has a considerable ocean commerce and can get more. She is right on the Inland Waterway and there are great possibilities for that port in handling traffic by barges and small steamers, if she will but prepare modern terminals with the facilities for economical handling of cargoes and the cheapening of freights. Meanwhile let Wilmington arouse itself to the supreme opportunity it has in providing harbor terminals that will place this port on a competing base with the other South Atlantic ports determined to do business through the Panama Canal.

Wilmington's present commerce already demands the terminals and warehouse facilities contemplated in the scheme for which the General Assembly has authorized us to vote bonds. The terminal charges and warehouse commissions will more than pay the interest and liquidate the bonds, so the improvements need not cost the taxpayers a cent. Even if it should cost $15,000 or $20,000 a year for interest, the business to be done by the port will make that a mere bagatelle.

At its last session, the General Assembly of Connecticut approprited $1,000,000 for the improvement of the harbor of New London. It is already one of the best harbors on the Atlantic coast, but no advantage has been taken of its exceutionally fine opportunities. The Legislature has taken it in hand, and the State will expend $1,000,000 for terminals for the benefit of Connecticut. It is a State matter, and the action of the Legislature shows that it will not permit the National government to provide the harbor while the State neglects to provide the terminals necessary to make the harbor available.

The Star expects Wilmington to take up this matter seriously, and not let it sleep, till it is proclaimed to the maritime world that Wilmngton has the means of doing business worthy of one of the leading South Atlantic ports.

We favor non-partisan voting so Republicans can quit the nefarious habit they have contracted in voting the Republican party into power almost every time there is a Presidential election. If good Republicans simply won't wabble, will they please stay away from tne polls and be good.

South Carolina is talking of forming another ten million dollar cotton mill merger. This would make four mergers, if the latter one is consummated, and the combined capital of the four merged corporations would be upwards of thirty million dollars. It was raised to perpetuate the memory of the Scottish-American soldiers who were killed in the Civil War. "If I've got to pay my wife money for not living with me," vowed Adolph Radloski, "I'll make her earn the alimony counting it. I'll pay her every cent in coppers, and won't turn the money over to any one but her." True to his promise, Radloski has been bringing 300 cents once every week to the office of his wife's lawyers and handing over the bag to his wife. Before he handed her the cash he insisted upon counting it twice himself, and then watching his wife count the cappers. Mrs. Radloski recently became ill, and for five weeks she did not appear to get her alimony. Her husband came each week, but demanded his wife's presence. At the end of the fifth week he carried a satchel with 1,500 coppers in it. Mrs. Radloski was on hand that day. Her husband, after the triple count, insisted upon a receipt. "That's the only fun I get out of this sort of taxation without representation," the husband said.—New York American.

The Greater Charlotte Club has accepted a plan drawn up by Mr. E. M. Cole for attracting new industries to the city. It is a good one and every business man should take time to read it carefully. The News has been urging for years the necessity of attracting to Charlotte many new industries. It is a diversity of business, which is most needed. The city whose prosperity depends upon any one line of business is in constant danger of financial embarrassment. Take the cotton mill town. When the textile business becomes depressed the town is wrecked for the time being. The city which has many kinds of business enterprises, however, enjoys continued prosperity even if hard times exist in certain lines of trade. It will be remembered that recently Mr. Keuster called attention to the need of more industries, and since that time he has been laboring hard upon plans for solving the problem. The proposition is one which should call forth the interest of every Charlottean interested in the business future of the city.—Charlotte News.

Mrs. White, Unable to Sleep, Tells How She Brought Back Natural Sleep

Gastonia, N. C.—Mrs. Ellen White, of this city, says: "I suffered for several years, with womanly troubles.

I could not rest at night.

I began taking Cardui, the woman's tonic, and before I had finished one bottle I could sleep well. It just acted like a charm.

Since taking Cardui, I have been in better health than for 10 years. It is the best medicine I ever used. It did me more good than the doctors.

I can certainly recommend Cardui, to all suffering women, for I have been greatly benefitted by its use. It will build them up.

Cardui has been worth its weight in gold to me, for now I am well and hearty."

No matter how long standing the trouble, Cardui will help. It is a tonic remedy. It is prepared for women, to bring relief from womanly ailments.

It helps sleeplessness, one of the most common symptoms of nervous breakdown. It helps build nerves and system.

Made from strictly vegetable ingredients, it has no ill-effects on any organ of the body, but acts naturally, gently, and safely.

You can rely on Cardui. It will do for you what it has done for thousands of others.

It will help you. Try it.

FISH DEALERS GIVE BOND

Will Appear at Next Term of Court to Answer Charge of Violating Anti-Trust Law—Give Out Statement.

Having noticed in Sunday's Star that they had been indicted by the grand jury for alleged violations of the State anti-trust law by securing and maintaining a monopoly in fish on the local market, Messrs. W. H. Yopp, J. B. Fales, D. J. Fergus, R. C. Fergus, Ed Taylor and C. W. Futch, six of the largest fish dealers in Wilmington, yesterday morning telephoned to the office of the Clerk of Superior Court and inquired as to when they should present themselves for service of the capiases. They were told that as soon as the amount of bond was fixed they would be notified as to the time they could come to the Court House.

Later in the day the amount of the bond was fixed at $100 each and the six dealers were notified and went immediately to the Sheriff's office where they arranged the bonds. Ex-Mayor Wm. E. Springer became surety on the bond of Mr. Yopp. The other five became surety for one another. All were in the Sheriff's office at the same time and talked freely of the action brought against them. Mr. D. J. Fergus gave out the following statement from the fish dealers' side of the matter and his remarks were approved by the other five:

"The people will find stronger competition among the fish dealers here than probably any other place in the United States and the local dealers pay a larger price for fish than most anywhere else. We order fish from dealers in Newbern, Norfolk, Portsmouth and Morehead City and they cost us less delivered here than we pay the local fishermen for the fish we buy from them.

"An investigation of the fish business here will show that there has been no attempt to monopolize any part of the fish business and that the whole scheme (meaning the indictments) is concocted by a man whose character is well known in this community, who, it is rumored, has made promises to some negro henchmen in order to get them to testify before the grand jury against us. The promise was that they would get twice as much for their fish if the grand jury brought an indictment against us. Another cause for the indictments is that certain lawyers are anxious to grease their fingers with as much of the $5,000 set apart by the State for prosecuting trusts, as possible.

"As a fish dealer I invite the strictest investigation of all my transactions.

"Relative to the cost of fish I will say that it is a well known fact that there has been a scarcity of fish this year as compared with last year, and not only fish but everything else has advanced as all things are governed by supply and demand.

"To show that there can be no monopoly of the fish business the country carts come in and bring their fish and stand under the market shed, where fish dealers, citizens and hucksters buy from them. Some of the fishermen stay under the market shed nearly all day and retail their fish. This gives everyone a chance to buy fish from the 'catchers,' as every citizen who goes to the market knows. Besides, about 20 hucksters drive over the city every day with fish which they sell direct to the housewife. None of the dealers has bought any shad from any one as they catch the shad with their own nets. The dealers have always avoided buying shad from independent nets, which come into the market dock in order to give the citizens of Wilmington a chance to go down and buy from the fishermen, which a great many do each day of the shad season."

In conclusion Mr. Fergus said that Mr. T. L. Ruth, well known as the author of "Outcast Husband," was one of the main witnesses before the grand jury, and in his opinion, was one of the leaders in the effort to prosecute the fish dealers.

Mr. Yopp said last night that he desired to say in addition to what had been said by Mr. Fergus that Saturday afternoon about 4:30 o'clock he asked permission to go before the grand jury and make a statement relative to the fish situation in Wilmington, but the request was denied by Mr. George Harriss, the foreman, on the ground that he could not allow it. Mr. Yopp said that he had heard that the grand jury was making an investigation and he desired that the side of the fish dealers be heard. Mr. Yopp said that he understood that it was not customary to hear the other side in the grand jury room, but he thought that both sides should be allowed to be heard.

Capt. W. N. Harriss, Deputy Clerk of Superior Court, tells of a rather amusing incident which occurred at the Court House yesterday morning soon after the offices were opened for the day. Wesley Mitchell, a well-known colored fish seller, having heard it said that the grand jury had indicted "the fish trust," went to Capt. Harriss and asked for information, declaring that he had trusted a few people but not caring to spend a season on the roads he would do a strictly cash business hereafter in view of the action of the grand jury. He was informed by Captain Harriss that the grand jury was not after that kind of trust and the fellow left the Court House apparently much relieved.

COURT MAY ADJOURN TODAY

No Jury Trials Yesterday, But Several Cases Went Off Docket by Non-Suit Route—Calendar Moved Us Some

A two-weeks' term of New Hanover Superior Court for the trial of civil cases convened yesterday morning with Judge Geo. W. Ward, of Elizabeth City, who presided at the criminal term last week, presiding, but was in session only about an hour as there were no cases on the docket ready to be tried. However, several cases went off the docket by the non-suit route. As forecasted in Sunday's Star this term of court will amount to but very little so far as the trial of cases is concerned. It is likely that court will adjourn sine die this afternoon and that Judge Ward will leave on the evening train for his home.

All cases on the calendar set for tomorrow have been moved up one day and will be called this morning. This is done by order of the court and all lawyers interested in the cases on the calendar are requested to take notice of the change; Judge Ward said in court yesterday morning that he felt greatly improved in health since coming to Wilmington and that he desired that the court be kept busy. He intimated that unless the lawyers were ready to try the cases that he would adjourn court.

Several cases which have been on the docket for some years, among the number some divorce cases in which pleading had not even been filed, were ordered off by the non-suit route. The following cases were disposed of yesterday:

H. A. Burr vs. Thad F. Tyler, order referring case to W. P. Mangum Turner, Esq., as referee. Robt. Ruark, Esq., for the plaintiff.

Frank Rogers vs. Mary Rogers, nonsuit, plaintiff to pay the costs. Herbert McClammy, Esq., for the plaintiff.

E. K. Bryan, Esq., vs. J. A. Biddle, judgment for plaintiff for $35.

Hannah Humphrey vs. John W Humphrey, dismissed at cost of defendant. Kellum & Loughlin and Bellamy for plaintiff, and John D. Bellamy & Son and Herbert McClammy, Esq., for defendant.

Lucy Bryant vs. David R. Bryant, judgment non-suit. Herbert McClammy, Esq., for plaintiff.

Luke Grady vs. Geo. Bell, judgment non-suit. L. V. Grady, Esq., for plaintiff and J. B. Bellamy & Son for defendant.

M. E. Thyer, admx. vs. Richard Smith, alias summons. Louis Goodman, Esq., for plaintiff.

J. H. Strauss vs. A. Mavronicholas, judgment for plaintiff, each to pay costs. R. G. Grady, Esq., for plaintiff.

A. Mavronicholas vs. J. A. Strauss, judgment non-suit. A. J. Marshall, Esq., for plaintiff and R. G. Grady, Esq., for defendant.

Andrew Foy vs. Etta Foy, judgment non-suit. A. J. Marshall, Esq., for plaintiff.

Quiet Wedding Sunday Evening at Immanuel Parsonage

Mr. Wilkes M. Morris and Mrs. Georgia A. Rivers were quietly married Sunday morning at 7 o'clock at the parsonage of Immanuel Presbyterian Church, Rev. J. S. Crowley, the pastor, officiating. Both the bride and groom have many friends in the city who are delighted to learn of their marriage and who will wish them a long and happy wedded life. Mr. and Mrs. Morris will make their home in Wilmington.

Negro Dies on Vessel

Ceasar Sanders, a negro cook on the schooner Edith H. Symington, was found dead in his berth Sunday morning about 9 o'clock. John Lind, a seaman, saw the man lying in his berth and called to him. When he failed to answer an investigation was made and it was found that he had died some time during the night. Dr. C. D. Bell, the coroner, was notified. He gave permission to inter the body. Death, the coroner stated, was caused by acute indigestion. Captain S. R. Thurber, of the Symington, stated that Sanders shipped in Philadelphia, but that his home was originally at Newbern.

Yoke Fellows Elect Officers.

The Yoke Fellows of the Y. M. C. A. held a very profitable and interesting session in the directors' room last night. Plans for the Fall and Winter months were fully discussed and officers elected for the ensuing year. Mr. Virginus Hall was elected president; Mr. J. T. Sholer, first vice president; R. G. Davis, secretary, and J. B. Huntington, treasurer. The fact that the band should unite with the churches in their revival services was brought out and each member expressed a desire to aid in the work.

Averts Awful Tragedy.

Timely advice given Mrs. C. Willoughby, of Marengo, Wis., (R. No. 1) prevented a dreadful tragedy and saved two lives. Doctors had said her frightful cough was a "consumption" cough and could do little to help her. After many remedies failed, her aunt urged her to take Dr. King's New Discovery. "I have been using it for some time," she wrote, "and the awful cough has almost gone. It also saved my little boy when taken with a severe bronchial trouble." TAX BOOKS FOR 1911 READY

Regular Monthly Meeting of County Commissioners Yesterday—Many Matters Discussed at the Lengthy Session

The Board of County Commissioners in regular monthly session at the Court House yesterday afternoon, received notice from Mr. John Haar, the clerk, that the county tax books for 1911 were ready to be signed, sealed and turned over to the Sheriff, directed the clerk to turn the books over to the Sheriff, and discussed and transacted a considerable amount of additional business. Commissioners Divine, Vollers, Metts and Kerr were present, as was Clerk John Haar. In the absence of Chairman McEachern, Commissioner Divine presided.

The first matter of business considered was a petition from citizens living at Carolina Place and Carolina Heights asking that the streets in that vicinity be made county roads and graded and paved accordingly. On suggestion of the acting chairman action on the matter was deferred until a meeting of the full board.

City Councilman B. C. Moore was present and stated to the board that he had talked with Chairman McEachern regarding the purchase of a pair of bloodhounds to be used in the capture of criminals. As both the city and the county would have opportunities to use the dogs, Councilman Moore stated that he thought it would be a good plan for the expense of the purchase and keeping of the animals to be borne jointly by the city and county. He argued that the value of the dogs lay in the training they received and pointed out that if the city and the county were both interested in the animals, they each could appoint a man to look after the hounds, one handling them part of the time and the other the remainder, thus working them every day for several months until the animals became thoroughly used to their keepers and were in perfect training. The Councilman stated that he could purchase a very desirable pair of dogs from a man at Whiteville, for the sum of $150. The animals, he said, were one year old and their owner guaranteed them to be man-trailers. Mr. Moore told the board that in his conversation with Mr. McEachern the chairman agreed that it would be a good idea for the city and the county to own the dogs jointly. The board voted that the question be turned over to Chairman McEachern with power to act.

Councilman Moore also stated that he had another matter to discuss with the board, but only in an unofficial capacity. He stated that he had been in conversation with a number of pump and deep-well experts and that they had informed him that they could bore several wells on the county farm tract near the old race track that would furnish the city a supply of 3,000,000 gallons of water a day. The city uses, Councilman Moore stated, only 2,000,000. Mr. Moore declared that the City Council would very likely take some action on the question of moving the intake of the city water supply in the near future and that he thought that it would be much cheaper to bore the wells than to go to Castle Haynes with the intake, as has been suggested. His idea was to get permission to bore a well as an experiment on the ground near the old race track and if it was a success to obtain surface control of about 10 acres of land there and sink the wells. Or, he added, the city would buy the land, if the county wished to sell it. It was the sense of the board that the county would place no serious obstacles in the way of the efforts of the city to get a pure water supply and that the board would be favorable to the proposition. The question will probably be discussed at the meeting of the board Thursday.

Another matter that was brought up by Councilman Moore was the question of the payment of the funeral and shipping expenses of the body of Abraham Ford, colored, which was shipped to the Wake Forest College for dissecting purposes and then ordered shipped back to the city in order that an autopsy might be performed upon it. After the body had been shipped away it was learned that the man probably died from the effects of a blow over the head, delivered by another negro, and upon request of Dr. C. D. Bell, the coroner, Mayor Smith ordered it shipped back. The matter was referred to Chairman McEachern with power to act.

Mr. F. L. Huggins was present with a number of blue prints showing that part of the county farm which he wishes to purchase for a manufacturing site. The blue prints were drawn by Capt. Walter G. MacRae, on request of Chairman McEachern, and Captain MacRae refused to charge the county for his services, beyond the expenses he had incurred in doing the work. Final consideration of the matter was left open until it could be brought before a full meeting of the board.

Dr. W. L. MacMillan, county superintendent of health, read his report to the board. In addition to the statistics as to the patients treated he stated that all the county institutions were in good sanitary condition and that the county school houses were also in good sanitary condition.

Jerry Dangerfield, colored, an uncle of the negro boy Willie Otis, who was given a sentence of three months with permission to the Commissioners to hire out by the Recorder recently, appeared before the board to ask that the boy be hired to him. He stated that the lad, who is only about 12 years of age, was inclined to tuberculosis and that he was not physically strong enough to stand the labor on the farm, where he now is. Commissioner Divine moved that the boy be hired out to his uncle on the payment of the expenses to the county in the case and the motion was carried.

Messrs. W. H. Best and E. J. Padrick appeared before the board to ask that the tax valuation of their property be lowered. Each stated that property all around theirs was listed much lower. They were instructed to send the board communications stating the location of the property and other relative facts so that the matter could be investigated.

A communication was read asking that the county reimburse Nipson Hansley for 12 bushels of corn that had been destroyed by hogs belonging to a man in Pender county, which had broken through the county fence between Pender and New Hanover. It was alleged that the fence was in a state of unrepair and that the hogs were thus enabled to get through. The matter was referred to a meeting of the full board.

The report of the treasurer was received, as was also the report of Register of Deeds John Haar, who reported 22 marriage licenses issued for the month, 13 white and 19 colored.

A number of bills were received and referred to the auditing committee, among which were bills from the United States Mortgage & Trust Co., for preparing an issue of county bonds, from the police department for the expenses of officers on their hunt for Sol Davis, the negro murderer and others.

A communication was also received from the city notifying the county to lay a granolithic sidewalk along its property on Princess street. Final consideration of the matter was left open until the meeting Thursday.

In a lengthy communication Miss Mary D. Cronly discussed the matter of the blocking of a road leading to Summer Rest Sound by a gate on Mr. Pembroke Jones' property. Miss Cronly discussed this matter in a communication at the last meeting of the board and the clerk was instructed to write her to the effect that the thoroughfare she referred to was no longer a county road. Her latest communication declares that she can show by the records on file that the road still belongs to the county. The communication was referred to the county attorney for a report.

Engineer A. D. O'Brien reported that the bridge across Smith's Creek was safe and in good condition except for the need of a few minor repairs.

The board passed an order allowing delinquent taxpayers to list their property provided they make payment at the same time it is listed and during the month of October.

A number of other minor matters came up for consideration and discussion. Probably some of them will be disposed of at the next meeting of the board, which meets as an auditing committee Thursday.

ROAD RALLY IN PENDER

Meeting Held at Burgaw Yesterday—Local Enthusiasts Attend

Mr. D. McEachern, chairman of the Board of County Commissioners; Mr. O. F. Cooper, Mr. Henry J. MacMillan and Mr. W. D. MacMillan, Jr., attended an enthusiastic good roads meeting in Burgaw yesterday afternoon. The meeting was held in the Court House and was well attended by good roads enthusiasts from Pender and adjoining counties. Mr. McEachern, one of the most ardent good roads enthusiasts, was one of the speakers at the meeting. Another Wilmingtonian present was Secretary O. F. Cooper, of the Chamber of Commerce, who announced that he had been authorized by the Atlantic Coast Line R. R. to state that it will operate a good roads special on November 23rd. The train will leave Richmond, Va., and will touch along the entire Southern territory traversed by the Coast Line. Several stops will be made in each county and speeches will be made and literature distributed with the idea of keeping up interest in the good roads movement. There will likely be representatives of the Department of Agriculture and National Good Roads Association on the train to take part in the boosting work.

The Wilmington party left here in a Flanders touring car belonging to Mr. W. D. MacMillan, Jr., and arrived at the Pender county seat in good time for the meeting, which was scheduled for noon. On the return trip they arrived in the city last night about 9 o'clock.

Senator Simmons was expected to be present and deliver an address on good roads, but he found it impossible to do so. However, a number of excellent speeches were made. Mr. D. McEachern, especially, delivering one of the best.

Members of the Wilmington party stated that the Pender county people are taking more interest every day in the good roads question and that the meeting yesterday would probably give a decided impetus to the movement for better highways in the adjoining county.

POSTAL BANK DOING WELL

Satisfactory Progress at Local Branch—Depositors Increasing

Postmaster Thomas E. Wallace said yesterday that the Postal Savings Bank at this point, which was put in operation several weeks ago, is progressing very nicely and that the number of depositors increase each day. The postmaster declares that the public seems to be interested in the new system of banking and that the prospects for the success of the local branch are of the brightest.

Mr. Wallace held a meeting with the colored ministers of the city recently and explained the workings of the Postal Savings Bank system to them. They were all very much interested and all declared their intention of explaining the system to their congregations and urging them to use the government bank to save their money.

Real Estate Transfers

SCHOOLS OPENED YESTERDAY

Good Enrollment Throughout City and All Indications Point to A Most Successful School Year—Progress Made

With a large enrollment in each school, and probably the most able and efficient corps of teachers ever assembled in the city, the public school system of the city opened the Fall session yesterday, and the different houses were scenes of busy antimation, although no class work was undertaken.

Following the opening exercises the pupils were assigned to their seats and lists of books to be used by the different classes were given out. Though this involved a great deal of work, there was little or no confusion at any point and everything went off in a manner that argurs well for the excellent system and discipline that prevails in the Wilmington schools.

Mr. John J. Blair, superintendent of the schools since 1903, is again at the helm. Professor Heman Shaw is in charge at the High School.

At the High School yesterday morning 403 pupils entered, many more than entered at the beginning of the term last year. At the Union school 971 children ar enrolled, and at the Hemenway school almost that number. Good enrollments are also reported at the colored schools.

With this morning the pupils in the different school buildings of the city will enter upon their regular duties, and classes will be reciting all during the school day. The lessons were assigned yesterday and the teachers were placed in charge of their respective classes. Everything points to a most successful year in all the schools and to a maximum amount of good work accomplished.

PLAN VIGOROUS PROSECUTION

There is to be No Let-up on the "Blind Tigers"—Claim That Evidence is Convincing—Citizens as Witnesses.

That the action of the grand jury last week in returning true bills in 62 out of 66 indictments for selling spirituous liquors is but the beginning of a determined effort to put a stop to the alleged open and flagrant violations of the State prohibition law become more apparent each day. It is rumored that one of the hardest fights that has ever been made to secure convictions in whiskey cases will be made when the defendants in these cases are called to trial whether it be in New Hanover or some adjoining county.

Report has it that the prosecution considers that it has splendid evidence—evidence that cannot fail to convict each and every man under indictment, if the juries are disposed to return verdicts in accordance with the evidence adduced. Every person indicted is said to have a United States license to sell spirituous liquors and this fact, it is said, was shown to the grand jury. Besides, it was shown by agents of the transportation companies that whiskey was delivered here to various persons in large quantities. Independent of the fact that each defendant has a United States liquor license he has to file an affidavit with the government that he intends to engage in the retail liquor business, and since the United States law went into effect requiring all liquors to be consigned to actual persons and to have the contents marked on the package it is an easy matter to produce the affidavit and also the books of the transportation companies showing enormous deliveries of liquors.

It is said that persons have been convicted right along in some of the nearby counties on evidence of the receipt of quantities of whiskey and the fact that the defendant held United States license. Report has it that the local cases will be even stronger, as possibly a hundred persons of standing in the community, who, it is said, are known to have purchased liquor and who, it is believed, will not perjure themselves, will be called as witnesses. By this means it is thought that an invincible case for any jury can be made out against the defendants. It will be recalled that some months ago the Star printed a rumor that detectives were in the city taking names of prominent persons seen to enter places under suspicion and that it had been suggested that the purpose was to later use this information in working up whiskey cases. The report seems now to have been well founded, for it leaked out yesterday that the names of a hundred or more of Wilmington's leading citizens are in the hands of those behind the movement to prosecute the "tigers." There was also a report rife yesterday to the effect that the name-taking has not stopped yet. It is possible that several other attorneys not previously mentioned in connection with the whiskey cases will be found on the side of the prosecution when the trials begin.

Fifty-three of the 62 persons indicted have been served with capiases and have given bond in the sum of $500 each. The list follows:

J. T. Newman, Lola Harris, Clyde Kennedy, J. H. Woebse, N. E. Farrow, D. W. Willis, O. E. Merritt, Henry Gieschen, H. E. Truelove, Geo. Schnibben. Mattie Allen, "Dug" Dennis, W. S. Mintz, E. L. Starkey, H. T. F. Wrede, M. L. Starkey, L. R. Welch, H. H. Woebse, W. H. Biddie, J. L. Bolton, J. W. Capps, John Wrede, H. Mack Godwin, F. W. Ortmann, J. N. Bennett, John G. Schulken, E. M. Cheek, J. A. Westbrook, N. M. Woodcock, R. W. Woodcock, J. O. Grimes, E. B. Snipes, T. O. Norris, M. H. Kelly, Julius Sternberger, J. D. Burnett, D. N. Stanley, F. H. Schutters, M. Brunjes, H. T. Duls, C. A. Workheiser, T. C. Rhodes, C. T. Powell, Peter Mohr, J. H. Brunjes, J. H. Ottaway, M. Van Oesen, W. J. Kerr, Ralph Kennedy, Albert Steljes, Chas. Richter.

It was said yesterday that attorneys for the defendants feel certain that they have discovered law sufficient to defeat any effort to remove the cases to another county any time within two years.

NEGRO CORKER RE-ARRESTED

Tried in Recorder's Court on Charge of Assault With Deadly Weapon and Found Not Guilty—Number of Cases.

In the Recorder's court yesterday morning W. E. Corker, colored, who was held responsible by the coroner's jury Saturday for the death of John Hamilton, a young negro, was tried on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon and found not guilty. The grand jury Saturday returned not a true bill against Corker. He was dismissed.

Hamilton was shot some time ago at the stables of the Wilmington Driving Association, where he and Corker were employed. The negroes were at the barn alone and no one saw the shooting. When he went to the James Walker Memorial Hospital to get his wound treated, Hamilton told the authorities there that he had been shot accidentally, his revolver having exploded under the pillow upon which his head was resting and the bullet entered near his eye. Later Policeman J. H. Davis went to the stables to interview Corker about the affair. Corker told the officer that he had shot Hamilton, but that it was accidental, as he was standing up cleaning the weapon when it went off unexpectedly. Hamilton remained at the hospital for some time and an operation was performed to remove the bullet from his head. However, this was unsuccessful. The negro seemed to be growing better and then suddenly suffered a relapse and grew worse until death ensued. The Recorder did not think the slight evidence justified a conviction of Corker and he was accordingly discharged.

John Teachey, colored, better known to his friends as "Badeye", was charged with an assault with a deadly weapon upon C. C. Lore, a white man. "Badeye" was found guilty and was given sentence that will enable him to exercise the effects of his deadly optic on his fellow convicts at the county convict camp for the next three months.

William Abbott and Mary Clemmons, colored, were tried on charges of the larceny of a number of pieces of wearing apparel, which it was alleged they had misappropriated from the tub of a colored laundress. Abbott was found not guilty, but Mary will languish on the county farm for the next three months.

P. Charles and Robert Patrick, both white, were charged with an affray. They were found guilty and were assessed $5 and the costs each.

Joe Kelly, colored, was found guilty of gambling and judgment was suspended on payment of the costs. Nelson Jenkins, colored, was tried on the same charge and found not guilty.

Fleet Backus and Bertha Grady, two dusky amazons, were tried on a charge of assaulting one Mary Murphy, colored, with a deadly weapon. Bertha was found guilty of simple assault and paid the costs, while she of the thirst-invoking mythological name was adjudged to have used a deadly weapon in her endeavor to exterminate Mary and was fined $10 and the costs.

Chas. Moore, colored, was declared not guilty of an assault with a deadly weapon on Johnnie James, colored, when it was learned that he was not the Chas. Moore desired.

The case against "Coon" Brown, colored, whom Deputy Sheriff W. Harvey Cox brought back from Newbern Saturday, and who is charged with storebreaking, was continued until Wednesday.

Simon D. McClammy, who was arrested by the Sheriff and a party of deputies on the Market street road Saturday night while raiding a negro oyster roast stand, will be tried on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon today. "Sis" Baldwin, colored, another negro brought back to this city by Deputy Cox Saturday, will be tried this morning on a charge of the larceny of a sum of money.

WANTS NEWS OF GYPSY

Man Supposed to Have Been Coming to City in Wagon

A letter was received at police headquarters asking information about one Steve Costello, a traveling Gypsy. The letter was from a Mr. Smith in Carthage, Mo., and stated that Costello left Colonial Beach, Va., on the 14th day of September, bound for Wilmington, in a wagon. The letter stated that the man's people had heard nothing from him since then and that one of his sisters was very ill at Carthage and would have to undergo an operation. She and his other relatives were very anxious to know his whereabouts. According to the letter the man has a brother by the name of John Costello in this county, but if such is the case the man is unknown to the police. Mr. Smith asked that if the chief or his men were able to learn Costello's whereabouts they immediately let him know by wire.

New Church to Be Organized

A new Christian Advent church is to be organized in East Wilmington in the near future. Smith's Chapel is to be the name of the church and Rev. James E. Smith is in charge of the work. He has made all preliminary arrangements for the organization of the church. The congregation will worship in a private house until other arrangements can be made.

"Royal Sam" Tonight.

Tonight "Jolly" John Larkins and his happy flock of pretty girls and funny boys will be the attraction at the Academy presenting the new big musical comedy, "Royal Sam". With a comedian like "Jolly" John Larkins to thrill and delight them, local lovers of the best in musical comedy are certain to attend in such goodly numbers as to refute completely the oft-repeated statement of late years that there is no longer any demand for good singing and brilliant comedy. It is reported that a regular ovation was accorded to "Jolly" John Larkins and his associated singers during his recent metropolitan engagement. Included in his supporting company are Jennie Pearl, Walter Crumbley, Irving Boots Allen, Irene Tasker, Ethel Johnson, Anna Tyler, Jas. A. Lillard, Geo. McClain and the finest singing chorus and pony ballet ever assembled. Everything will be brand new and up-to-date. John Larkins has completed a contract as co-star with Black Patti.

Seats are now on sale at Plummer's.

The Man on the Box.

"The Man on the Box," which is to be presented at the Academy tomorrow night by Bert Leigh and supporting company, has been styled "America's best comedy." It has always been a prime favorite with theatre-goers since first produced by Henry E. Dixey. The play amuses by mirth of genial whimsicality, and holds the interest upon the disentanglement of its situations, as a well made play should. The characters are drawn with the human touch of good comedy. If you have read the book, you should surely see the play, as the dramatist has followed the lines of the novel very closely. The advance sale of seats opens this morning at Plummer's.

"The Nest Egg" Thursday.

On Thursday night "The Nest Egg" by Anne Caldwell, which was received with great enthusiasm in both New York and Chicago last season, will be presented at the Academy.

The principal character is an elderly spinster with a sharp tongue, a big heart and plenty of horse sense. She has written a love message on an egg that went into cold storage for three years. The man who found it—and ate it—was a pure food crank and when he communicated with the old maid who shipped it, she thought he meant matrimony. Instead he wanted her as a witness in a suit he brought against the grocer who sold him the egg. She agrees to go with him to the State capital for the purpose of giving her testimony. In the end he married her and the egg sent at random accomplished its purpose, even though it was kept on ice for three years.

Seats will go on sale at Plummer's Wednesday morning.

"Mutt and Jeff."

Mr. "A. Mutt" and his bosom friend "Jeff" will be guests of the city of Wilmington for a matinee and night stay, entertaining their many friends at the Academy. These two rather peculiar acquaintances in this city are undoubtedly as well known by reputation as President Taft. Their reputations were obtained by slightly different means, however. President Taft is looking after our well being, by diplomatic and political strategy, while "Mutt and Jeff" are administrating "the laugh cure" for what ails you. Both are undoubtedly performing very commendable duties and obtaining inestimable results. A visit to the Academy during the sojourn of "Mutt and Jeff" in this city, will result in much physical and mental improvement.

Matinee prices but to $1.00. Night scale to $1.50. Seats for both performances on sale Friday.

At the Bijou

The Bijou opened up another week in fine style yesterday, and played to capacity business. Yesterday's bill was one of the brightest and freshest ever offered in this city and that it delighted all was evinced by the frequent exclamations of pleasure during the progress of the show and the warm words of praise showered on the management. Yesterday's bill again, too, exemplified the fact that the Bijou gets hold of films as soon as any other moving picture theatre does, as while the pictures were being shown at the Bijou yesterday precise copies were being flashed on the screens of the largest moving picture theatres in New York and other large Northern cities. This piece of enterprise on the part of the Bijou management costs big money, but the management never minds this. It's object is to give the Wilmington public the best and the very latest. Today's programme is going to be another corker. It's variety will be especially fine.

Dr. W. J. H. Bellamy Improving

Many friends in this city and section of Dr. W. J. H. Bellamy, who has been out of the city for several months recuperating in the mountains of Virginia and Pennsylvania, is rapidly regaining his health. His son, Dr. Russell Bellamy, spent Sunday in Washington with his father, who is living in a hotel, near Franklin Square, and noticed a considerable improvement in his father's condition as compared with the illness observed in June, when he was confined to a hospital. It cannot yet be stated when Dr. Bellamy will return, but the circumstances, it is said, indicate that he will be in considerable more robust health than many have anticipated.

Children Are Blessed With a Sweet Tooth

So are you—and you should encourage it, for the system demands sugar more than meats. Of the three nutritive elements which support life—sugar, protein and fat—sugar is the most important. You can't eat too much of it in its correct form.

It is the native sugar in good ribbon cane syrup that gives it its wonderful food value—the whole substance is wholesome sugar.

The "sweetness" of many syrups sold to the public is a little sugar or saccharine matter added to an insipid by-product "filler"—tasteless until the sugar is added. Such syrup, by itself, or made into cake and candy, has about as much food value as shavings.

FURTHER DECLINE IN COTTON

Government Reports Met Bearish Expectations and Prices Made New Low Records—No More Reports This Season.

New York, October 2.—Two government reports were issued in the Cotton market—both of which met bearish expectations—and prices made new low records, with Fall and Winter months selling below 10 cents for the first time in over two years. The close was barely steady and last prices showed a net loss of from 18 to 24 points. The census report which was issued before the opening, made the ginning to September 25 3,663,068 bales, or more than a million bales above any previous record, while the condition figures as published at midday proved just about as expected, by making the percentage 71.1, against 73.2 last month, 65.9 last year, 69.7 in the big crop year of 1908, and 66.5 the ten-year average.

No further condition reports will be issued this season, and the next report from the Department of Agriculture will be the annual estimate of the crop early in December. The next ginning report will give the amount of cotton ginned to October 18, and will be published on October 25.

The market opened easy at a decline of 5@15 points in response to the big ginning figures, weak Liverpool cables and Southern selling orders. There was considerable trade buying and active covering by shorts on the decline, and prices rallied some 10 to 15 points from the lowest on active months during the middle of the morning. Reactions occurred when the condition figures were issued and the market was about 6 to 7 points net lower when the government report was received. No excitement developed, but there was liquidation by recent buyers and sellers showed increased confidence after the crop figures were out of the way and the market reached the lowest level of the day in the late trading when October sold at 9.87, December at 9.97 and January at 9.87, and the general list showed a net loss of from 19 to 24 points. The close was at practically the lowest, but December, which was relatively steady all day, closed a couple of points up from the bottom. The condition figures, in connection with the good weather reported to revive the larger estimates of the crop, but the continued Southern selling and reports of a weak spot situation were, perhaps, the chief depressing factor.

Receipts today, 104,212 bales, against 88,814 last week, and 62,187 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans, 1,648 bales, against 2,684 last year, and at Houston 35,508 bales, against 34,766 last year.

Spot closed 15 points lower; middling uplands, 10.20; do. gulf, 10.45; sales, 800 bales.

Futures closed barely steady.

DRY GOODS MARKET.

New York, October 2.—After the government cotton report was in prices on print cloth yarn fabrics were shaded ⅛ to a basis of 5 cents for 68x72s. Other goods held their values more steadily. Yarns are staple; serges in dress goods and double-faced fabrics are in good call. Jobbers report a quiet day.

S THE WORLD GROWING BETTER?

Many things go to prove that it is. The way thousands are trying to help others is proof. Among them is Mrs. W. W. Gould, of Pittsfield, N. H. Finding good health by taking Electric Bitters, she now advises other sufferers, everywhere, to take them. "For years I suffered with stomach and kidney trouble," she writes. "Every medicine I used failed till I took Electric Bitters. But this great remedy helped me wonderfully." They'll help any woman. They're the best tonic and finest liver and kidney remedy that's made. Try them. You'll see. 50c at R. R. Bellamy's.

STOCKS ARE MOVING UPWARD

Advances Were General on Market Yesterday—Did Not Retain Its Advantage Throughout the Session.

New York, October 2.—For a time after the opening of the stock market today a renewal of the upward movement of late last week appeared to be under way. Advances were generally in the early transactions. In the cases of Union Pacific, Reading, Lehigh Valley, Missouri Pacific, American Smelting and American Tobacco, pfd., amounted to a point, and United States Steel gained nearly as much. But the market did not retain its advantage. Offerings at the higher prices were unexpectedly large and quotations soon began to fall. Gains were cancelled and the market thereafter moved listlessly within an unusually narrow range. Net changes in most instances were nominal. A lessened demand from the short interest deprived the market of its main source of strength. No attempt was made, however, to bring about and break, and speculators on both sides of the market merely held their ground. Compared with the wild fluctuations of last week the day was extremely dull. The event of the day which attracted attention was the announcement of the engagement of $2,000,000 gold for shipment to Paris, following the exportation of $1,500,000 to the same point on Saturday. Bankers were doubtful today whether the movement would be restricted to small proportions. The ultimate destination of the gold and the significance of the demand from Paris at this critical time in the European political situation were, of course, matters for speculation.

The strike on the Harriman lines, the government crop report and war news from abroad were without effect upon the market, the movement of which were governed almost entirely by technical conditions.

Trading in the Steel stocks fell off with the remainder of the market. Transactions in bonds shrank proportionately with stocks, and the movement was extremely narrow. Prices were firm. Total sales, par value, $2,170,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales for the day, 414,300 sahres.

EASILY DECIDED

This Question Should Be Answered Easily by Wilmington People

Which is wiser—to have confidence in the opinions of your fellow-citizens, of people you know, or depend on statements made by utter strangers residing in far-away places? Read the following:

J. F. Hansley, 406 Walnut street, Wilmington, N. C., says: "My back and kidneys troubled me a great deal and I think it was due to my being on my feet so much. I suffered from dull, dragging backaches and I could not stoop without having sharp twinges in my loins. The kidney secretions were too frequent in passage and there was sediment in them. Some time ago when I heard about Doan's Kidney Pills, I got a box from Bellamy's drug store and in a few days after I began their use, my pains and aches disappeared. I have felt so much better in every way since using Doan's Kidney Pills that I have no hesitation in recommending them." (Statement given February 25th, 1908.)

No Trouble Since

On December 27th, 1910, Mr. Hansley said: "I have had no occasion to use any kidney medicine since I took Doan's Kidney Pills some years ago and I am glad to say that they brought me lasting benefit. You are welcome to continue publishing my former statement."

For sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Proposals for the Erection of a State Building at Raleigh.

The North Carolina State Building Commission invites proposals for the erection of a State Building at Raleigh, North Carolina, to be approximately 60x195 feet, 4 stories in height, reinforced concrete construction with exterior of stone, brick and terra cotta.

All proposals must be directed to Mr. Ashley Horne, Chairman State Building Commission, care of State Auditor's Office, Raleigh, N. C., and be delivered not later than one o'clock P. M. on November 1, 1911. Each proposal must be accompanied by certified check in the amount of $5,000 payable to the Chairman of the Commission, check to be forfeited in the event of bidder failing or refusing to enter into contract if same is awarded to him. A copy of the plans and specifications will be sent express collect upon application to P. Thornton Marye, architect, 1405 Candler Building, Atlanta, Ga., and upon payment of eight dollars to cover cost of blue printing, or may be seen at the office of Frank P. Simpson, associated architect, Raleigh, N. C.

seers brought in anything to eat and they applied to the public commissary in such numbers that flood victims have been crowded out and but for the citizens' committee, the deserving would have had to go hungry.

About the time the restrictive order was issued a train load of sightseers arrived, but nobody was allowed to go near the ruins except relatives or friends of citizens.

This afternoon the State health department sent men to Eatting Summit, the junction of the Buffalo and Susquehanna Railroad (on which Austin is situated) and the Pennsylvania & Erie, with instructions to go through trains now and notify passengers that only those having business at Austin would be allowed to enter.

Browley Whorton, secretary of the State board of charities, and Herbert M. Peck, of Philadelphia, special agent of the Children's Aid Society, are arranging to care for children orphaned by the flood.

The first actual step toward an organized movement to extricate the community from its desolation and grief was accomplished today when Dr. Samuel G. Dix, State commissioner of health, called a meeting and appointed a committee which immediately started work on a systematic basis.

An hour after the meeting ended a steam derrick was hung and men were at work in the main street. Telegraph poles and logs were torn from the ruins and laid aside, while the laborers worked to clear the Buffalo & Susquehanna tracks through the valley to Costello.

Another hundred men started work at Costello to meet the crew from this place. A hundred bridgemen are constructing two bridges to replace structures washed away. The railroad tracks must be replaced to get wrecking trains and the committee plans to work from either side of these tracks with the hope of recovering any bodies still in the debris.

A broad line was formed for the first time in Austin today. Heretofore relief had been extended to the needy by neighbors and friends. Supplies today were placed in Odd Fellows hall and were guarded by State constabulary as they were handed out.

State Sanitary Engineer F. Herbert Show, who is in charge of getting out the bodies and clearing away the wreckage, has sent in a requisition for several hundred carpenters and they are being rushed here on a special train with tools. Lumber is available from the ruins.

Sheds, kitchens and other buildings needed to care for the homeless, will be erected.

Twenty-five coffins reached Austin today and 100 more are expected tomorrow. Burial permits are issued as rapidly as identification proceeds.

Several bodies were taken to nearby towns, but most of the victims will be laid away in Austin's burial ground which was untouched by the flood.

One woman applied to relief workers today for food showing a copy of Tennyson's Poems and a box half filled with pulverized chocolate. "This is all I saved," she said. "I slept Saturday on the ground with the book for a pillow and the chocolate mixed with cold water is all that I had to eat."

A gaunt old man, clad only in shirt and trousers, appealed to an officer of the State police.

"Can't you lend me an overcoat for my wife?" he asked. "She just left the hospital Friday and had been there six months—and I am afraid she will die if I can't get some clothes for her."

"How about yourself?" questioned the officer.

"I just want to borrow a coat for my wife," the old man replied.

"Here," answered the officer removing his own overcoat, "take that to your wife, "and here," a second officer nearby removed his and said, "and here is one for you."

Rains Cause Floods

Punxsutawney, Pa., Oct. 2.—Reports received here tonight are to the effect that flood water due to heavy rains has caused upwards of $500,000 damage throughout the Mahoning Valley. No fatalities are reported. In this city the damage to property amounts to $150,000.

ASHEVILLE NEWS NOTES

Lightning Plays Havoc — Damage Cases in Court

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Asheville, N. C., Oct. 2.—The house of Howell Swann, near Weaverville, was struck by lightning Saturday during the thunder storm which visited this section and Mr. Swann and members of his family narrowly escaped serious injury. One of Mr. Swann's arms was singed and his wife and baby were knocked down. The lightning struck the corner of the house and several shingles were knocked off.

Mr. Swann was lying in bed when the bolt struck, with his arm on the sewing machine which was near the bed. Hhis wife was walking toward the bed and fell to the floor. Other than the shock they were not hurt but Mr. Swann complained of a stiffness in his arm today. One of his children, asleep in bed, was not awakened.

Mr. Swann stated that the flash was blinding and he thought the whole house was on fire.

In Superior Court the case of Sherman Patterson against the Asheville Steam Laundry is being tried before Judge Lane. The plaintiff is suing for $10,000 for personal injury alleged to have been received while in the employ of the defendant company. The complaint contends that the plaintiff was attempting to throw a belt when his clothes caught on a nut on the line shaft and that he was thereby hurt about his back, neck and shoulders.

Another damage suit which has just been instituted is that of Robert Jenks against the Asheville Electric Company in which the plaintiff is suing for $5,000, alleging in the complaint filed, that he was injured when one of the defendant company's cars was derailed , that he was bruised, cut and wounded.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 2.—Many delegates are coming in for the fourth annual convention of the Paint, Oil & Varnish Association, which will open tomorrow morning. The body is said to represent a capitalized wealth exceeded only by that of the American Bankers' Association. About 300 delegates are expected, these representing 25 States.

"That Good Old Coffee of Long Ago"

If It Wasn't Good Coffee It Wouldn't Have Lived So Long

Only a coffee of marvelous quality could hold the place of undisputed leader for nearly two hundred years. Yet French Market Coffee is increasing daily in popularity. And it is the same delicious French blend that so delighted Andrew Jackson, Henry Clay and the beauties and gallants who thronged the old French Market in New Orleans centuries ago. Then you could get only at the French Market in New Orleans. But NOW you all may serve it daily, at your own table. For the old French Market blend is perpetuated by and we NOW deliver French Market Coffee everywhere in hermetically-sealed tins. It comes to you fresh from the mill with all its enticing aroma and delicious flavor. "There is only one real old French Market flavor"—only one coffee with a history.

French Market Coffee

ever, compelled to put into Agosta for repairs.

State of Unrest in Turkey

London, Oct. 2.—The Constantinople correspondent of the Chronicle sends the following dispatch:

The Sultan passes many hours praying at the various shrines. He grants frequent audiences to the German ambassador. I am assured that at last the ambassador has proposed, on the Emperor's advice, that Turkey should cede Tripoli to Italy, the Emporer undertaking that Turkey shall receive adequate compensation.

The United States, it is understood, is using its utmost influence to bring about a cessation of the hostilities, and Russia gives repeated assurances that she will not allow complications to arise in the Balkans.

A special commission has been formed to recruit volunteers for the country's defense. From all parts of Servia and Montenegro, great military activity is reported. Turkish reinforcements have been sent to Janina.

Turkey sent her final note to the powers last night appealing for friendly intervention. If the response is unfavorable orders will at once be given to begin military operations. A high Turkish official declared that Turkey had not yet begun hostilities, in spite of Italy's brutal aggression.

"We have had great difficulty," he continued, "in restraining public opinion. Should the last appeal for intervention prove futile German protection afforded Italians will be of little avail."

A mob today attacked the Italian consulate at Salonki. The consulate was seriously damaged, although soldiers preventeu it from being completely wrecked. The mob then surrounded the ex-Sultan's villa and fired revolvers at the windows.

The Turkish warships in the Dardanelles are the battleships Hamidieh, Barbeross, Torgutreis, the cruiser Medjidieh and the destroyers Tir-I-Dzumu, Zguian, Mugveneti, Hidmet and Zadiguiar. The fleet has anchored off Nigara.

No Bombardment

On Board Italian Warship Off Tripoli, Sunday, October 1st, 11 P. M., by way of Syracuse, Sicily, Oct. 2.—No bombardment of Tripoli has yet taken place. The Italian consul is authority for the statement that the bombardment will begin three days after the notification which was given Saturday.

Correspondents are under the strictest censorship and are not permitted to disclose the names of the blockading ships or the military movements Of all the Italian colony in Tripoli there remains only two Monks and two Nuns, who are caring for invalids in the hospitals.

Turkish soldiers guard the Italian consulate and Italian business houses When the last Italian colonist left the consulate Saturday where they had spent the night under protection of the German flag, the streets were strongly lined with Turkish troops. Crowds of natives had gathered and hooted and parred angrily. There were evidences of violent rage on the part of the Arabs and the soldiers prevented a possible massacre. The German consul escorted the refugees to the boats.

Immediately the refugees left the shore aboard a boat and one of the cruisers took an officer ashore, who notified the authorities that the blockade would begin at noon and the bombardment three days later.

Trouble for Italians

Malta, Oct. 2. 7 P. M.—Word just received from Tripoli says that the Turks and Arabs are entrenching behind the city. Sixty thousand Arabs, said to be armed with Mausers hold a strong position fifty miles behind the town, in a country which is an excellent natural stronghold. An advance guard is stationed twenty miles from Tripoli. The Turkish garrison has left the forts.

Mobilization Hurried

Constantinople, Oct. 2.—Mobilization is being hurried. Turkish troops have been sent to Macedonia and along the Greek frontiers. In spite of the government's pacific assurances, the fear persists that if the war with Italy is prolonged a frontier incident will occur which will unavoidably precipitate a Turko-Greek war.

Numerous telegrams reaching the port from the provinces describe feeling there as beginning to run high. The people are clamoring for desperate resistence and reprisals against the Italians. The Turkish government has ordered coal exporters to hold all Cardiff coal.

BANK OF MAGNOLIA.

Organized Last Night With $10,000 Capital Stock—Building.

Mr. Jos. W. Yates, one of the vice presidents of the Murchison National Bank, returned on the early morning train today from Magnolia, where on last night he attended and assisted with the organization of the Bank of Magnolia with $10,000 capital stock fully paid in. A charter for the bank was recently granted by the Secretary of State and at the organization meeting last night in the new Knights of Pythias hall, directors were elected as follows: Messrs. J. C. Horne, Hheo. Middleton, M. H. Wooten, W. D. Wilkins, P. J. Heath, Thos. J. Kelly, H. D. Williams, Jos. W. Yates, T. H. Bridgers, and W. B. Murray. The affairs of the embryo bank were discussed quite enthusiastically and the institution will begin business as soon after November 1st as possible under the most favorable auspices.

Following the meeting of the stockholders the directors met and elected officers as follows: President, Mr. J. C. Horne; Vice President, Mr. W. B. Murray; Cashier, Mr. T. H. Bridgers.

The bank is having erected at Magnolia a very handsome, brick building, which will be its home. The officers, directors and shareholders in the new bank are among the best known and most conservative business men in this section and the Bank of Magnolia promises to grow rapidly in strength and influence in East Carolina.

TALK OVER NEWS SERVICE.

Newspaper Men of Virginia and Carolinas Met at Raleigh.

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 2.—Representatives of the newspapers of Virginia and the two Carolinas on the first and second south wires of the Associated Press, met here today in semi-annual session to discuss and adjust matters purely of interest to the craft. Mr. Paul Cowles, of Atlanta, superintendent of the Southern division, and Mr. J. S. Elliott, of Washington, chief of staff, represented the Associated Press. Two sessions were held in the parlors of the Hotel Raleigh.

Following the morning session the newspaper men were given a luncheon a the Raleigh Country Club, by Mr. Josephus Daniels, editor of the News and Observer and in the evening were guests of the Academy of Music at a performance of "The Gamblers", which was followed by a buffet luncheon at the Elks' Club.

Mr. Daniels was the host of the visiting newspaper men and made their stay enjoyable.

The organization, which is known as the Virginia-Carolina Associated Press, elected the following officers:

Chairman—Josephus Daniels, Raleigh News and Observer.

Vice Chairman—J. H. Caine, Asheville Citizen.

Secretary-Treasurer—R. W. Vincent, Charlotte Observer.

Executive Committee—J. M. Charlotte, Greenville, S. C., News; T. H. Lamb, Norfolk Landmark; J. E. Thompson, Wilmington Star.

The executive committee decided to hold the next meeting at Greenville, S. C., on the second Monday in May.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 2.—Governor Dix announced today the designation of delegates to represent New York at the Fourth convention of the Atlantic Deeper Waterways Association, to be held in Richmond, Va., October 17-20. They include among others Jacob H. Schiff, Gustav H. Schwab, Lewis Nixon, Isidor Straus and State Superintendent of Public Works, Chas. E. Treman.

This is a wise maxim to take warning from others of what may be your own advantage.—Terence.
